Special Council Meeting Called

Aldermen Will Be Asked to Consider $738,265
in Bond Issues

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said today he has called a special meeting of the Common Council for Thursday at 7:30 p. m., to consider $738,265.90 in bonds and a budget note of $50,000 for various city purposes.

Of the total in bonds $540,000 would be for the water department's improvement program, $125,000 for next year's street improvement program, and $73,265.90 for machinery and equipment.

Says Money Needed
The $50,000 budget note is needed, the mayor said, because, as of Nov. 1, 1953 the city had $55,000 due in unpaid taxes, and because of excessive costs in sewer maintenance work beyond that provided for in the budget.

The mayor said notices reporting the special meeting were being sent to the aldermen today.

The Board of Water Commissioners recently voted to ask the council to raise the money for an improvement program that would include the building of a standpipe in the 12th ward, improvement of the water system's pipe lines, and other work, including a project that would provide water service for the proposed IBM plant in the town of Ulster.

Miss Marlatt Sworn

Albany, Nov. 17 (AP)—Miss Frances K. Marlatt of Mount Vernon was sworn in today as assemblywoman from the Third District of Westchester county. The oath was administered by Miss Ruth M. Miner, executive deputy secretary of state, in a brief ceremony in Miss Miner's office. Miss Marlatt, a Republican, defeated Samuel Collins, Democrat, in the Nov. 3 election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Republican Assemblyman Harold D. Toomey of Mount Vernon last winter. An attorney, Miss Marlatt formerly served on the Westchester County Board of Supervisors. She is a past president of the New York State Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Moves to Japan

Tokyo, Nov. 17 (AP)—The air force announced today that the 31st Strategic Fighter Wing from Turner Air Force Base in Georgia has become a part of Japan's air defense force. The 31st replaced the 506th Wing which returned to Dow Air Force Base, Bangor, Maine.

Perry Is Given Year Jail Term On Three Counts

Sentence Is for Impairing
Morals of Minor; Hutter
Motion Denied
in Court

Fred Perry, Sr., 71-year-old East Kingston resident was sentenced to a year in the Ulster county jail on three separate counts Monday afternoon in County Court. Perry was found guilty last Friday of violation of Section 483, Subdivision 2, of the Penal Law which deals with endangering the morals of a minor. Perry was found guilty of having been involved with several others in improper conduct with young girls, one of which was only 11 years of age at the time.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Cashin imposed year in jail on each of the three counts in the indictment and then stated the sentences would run concurrently. Judge Cashin told Perry he was imposing the maximum penalty which the law provided for conviction of that crime and he added, "I wish I could give you more."

Perry, who has been on bail during the trial, is badly crippled. He was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Hutter Case Moved

District Attorney Howard C. St. John then moved for trial on indictment against George Hutter, which charges carnal abuse of a child. This charge grows out of

Million Second-Graders Will Be Given Polio Vaccine in Nationwide Experiment

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Reporter)

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—A hope-laden polio vaccine will be given to probably one million school children—in second grades only—beginning Feb. 8 in an effort to learn whether polio has been conquered.

Official details of a unique nationwide medical test were announced yesterday by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The children will bare their arms for three successive shots of a vaccine made of killed polio virus, and triple tested for safety.

The vaccine was developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh. It will be given to second graders in public, private and parochial schools in some 200 U. S. counties—none officially named as yet.

What happens to these youngsters during next summer's natural exposure to polio will tell whether the vaccine is a success.

Success, if these youngsters have less paralytic polio, or none, compared with unvaccinated children of the first through third grades in those same counties.

Failure, if there is no real benefit from the historic mass vaccination trials.

The answer won't be known until some time in 1955 when careful scientific checkups have been completed, said Basil O'Connor, foundation president.

If the vaccine does really protect, then large amounts could be made available for children of all ages in 1955, O'Connor said.

The counties and states for the tests, costing the foundation 7½ million dollars, are still being chosen.

Those selected will be areas which have had high polio rates for the past five years, especially among young children, and which give a good cross section of the nation geographically, economically and socially. The tests will begin in one or more southern counties.

Vaccinations will be confined to children in the second grade because youngsters of that age—6½ to 8—have the second highest

Blast at Brownell Given by Former President in Address

Kansas City, Nov. 17 (AP)—Harry S. Truman's promise to "tell all" in the now famed Harry Dexter White case was summed up today as:

He knew the high government official had been accused of disloyalty but decided to retain him in order not to endanger an intensive investigation of subversives both in and out of the government service.

It was the former President's answer before a nationwide radio and TV audience last night to the charges stemming from a speech 11 days ago by Attorney General Brownell.

In that speech the attorney general said the late Harry Dexter White had been retained in an important post "though he was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him."

Truman, jaunty and confident as ever, made a step-by-step summary of the White case, and prefaced and followed it by blasting Brownell's charges as "phony," as "false," and as "shameful demagoguery."

"The manner and timing of what has been done," Truman said, "makes it clear that the powers of the attorney general have been prostituted for hopes of political gain. No election is worth so much."

Says GOP Desperate
Truman's first answer to Brownell's charges was that the Republicans were "desperate" because of their election reverses in New York and New Jersey.

The attorney general withheld comment on Truman's talk. Other reaction ran generally along partisan lines.

Truman had told newsmen earlier in the day he would talk to them after his speech, but on departing from the radio-television studio he said "nothing tonight. I'm pretty tired. I might say something I shouldn't."

At one point he lashed out with this: "It is now evident that the present administration has fully embraced, for political purposes, McCarthyism. I am not referring to the senator from Wisconsin—he is only important in that his name has taken on a dictionary meaning in the world."

"It is the corruption of truth, the abandonment of our historical devotion to fair play. It is the abandonment of the 'due process' of law. It is the use of the big lie and the unfounded accusation against any citizen in the name of Americanism or security. It is the rise to power of the demagogue who lives on untruth: it is the spread of fear and the destruction of faith in every level of our society."

"This is not a partisan matter. This horrible cancer is eating at

Brownell Goes Before Senators

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—In an atmosphere charged with political thunderheads, Atty. Gen. Brownell replies today to former President Truman's crackling assertion that Brownell "lied to the American people" in the Harry Dexter White case.

Brownell goes before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee today (2 p. m.) with what aides said is a "comprehensive statement" in support of his charges that White was kept in a sensitive government job despite FBI reports to the White House describing the appointee's "espionage activities."

Half an hour later (2:30 p. m.), the hearing will be thrown open to the public, newsmen and similar radio-TV coverage.

Dean Reverses U.S. Stand on Neutrals; Disagree on Place

Panmunjom Will Not Do
as Conference Site,
Reds Told by Delegate

Panmunjom, Nov. 17 (AP)—U.S. Envoy Arthur Dean told the Communists today the United States would be willing to invite neutral nations to the Korean peace conference under certain conditions—a sharp reversal of his earlier stand.

At the same time, Dean rejected as "totally unacceptable" a Communist proposal to hold the conference at Panmunjom with Russia, India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan attending as non-voting observers.

The UN delegate to preliminary peace talks told the Reds the United States would ask its allies to consider asking neutrals to the full dress conference if:

1. The belligerent nations reach agreement on the Korean question and want to move on the broad Asian questions.

2. The conference bogs down and it appears that progress on Korean problems is impossible.

To Study Proposals
Both Allied and Communist proposals were complicated and negotiators said they would study them overnight. Answers were expected when the talks resume at 10 a. m. Wednesday (9 p. m. EST Tuesday).

There was no immediate Allied comment on a Red suggestion that all decisions of the peace conference be unanimous.

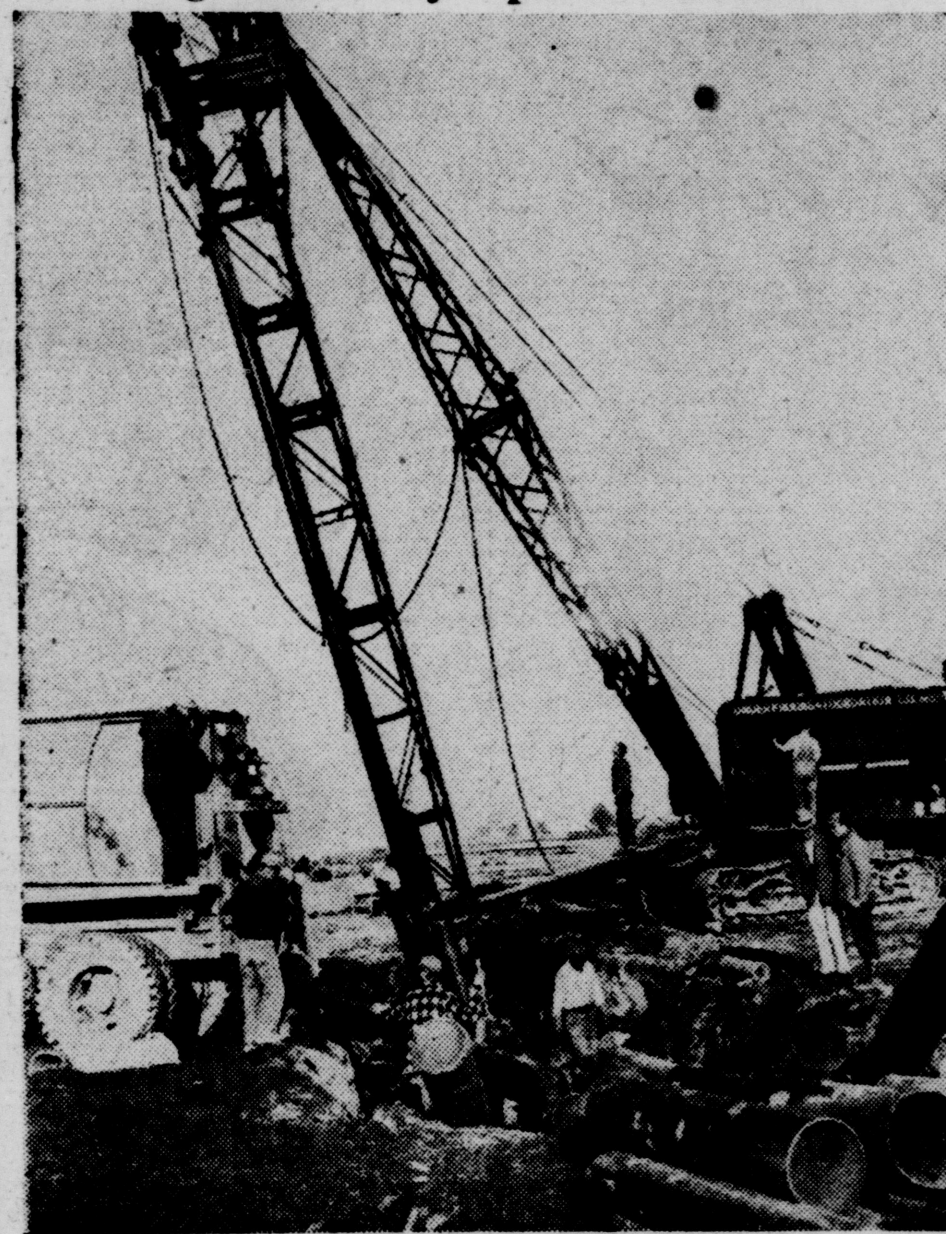

Meanwhile, Communist interviews with Chinese and Korean war prisoners who refused to go home were called off again Tuesday when the Reds called for POWs' skipped by persuaders Monday.

And the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission called off interviews for Wednesday when the Reds had not filed a request for prisoners from a new compound by the 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Monday EST) deadline.

South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said the preliminary talks seem to be making "some progress." But he reiterated strong opposition to seating neutrals at the peace conference.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—The position of the treasury Nov. 13, 1953: Cash balance $6,181,876.229.56. Budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $18,860,890,755.88. Budget expenditures fiscal year $26,334,768,891.24. Budget deficit $7,473,878,135.36. Total debt $275,050,672,626.74(x). Gold assets $22,076,588,725.85. (x) Includes $576,161,520.01 debt not subject to statutory limit.

Hall Describes Slaying Of Young Greenlease

Ex-Convict Tells How He Drove Car Across Line, Tried Strangling Youngster

Kansas City, Nov. 17 (AP)—The grim story of how Carl Austin Hall shot and killed little Bobby Greenlease as he struggled for his life was told today in the ex-convict's confession.

The confession was made public for the first time when it was read at the federal kidnap trial of Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, the alcoholic divorcee, before a jury called to determine whether they shall die for their crime.

Hall, the 34-year-old playboy who turned to crime when his inherited fortune was squandered, showed little emotion as the 36 pages of gruesome detail was read by A. S. Reeder, one of two FBI agents who took the confession.

Went to Kansas
Hall related how he had driven the boy and Mrs. Heady across the state line into Kansas soon after 6-year-old Bobby had been abducted from a private Catholic school in Kansas City.

"Bobby had not offered any resistance," Hall said, "and I had made no attempt to harm him. He seemed interested in his ride and appeared to be enjoying himself during the trip."

"After stopping the car, I got out on the driver's side, went to the rear and let the tailgate down, then laid out the blue plastic sheet. I then went around the car to the side opposite the driver and entered the car."

"Bobby was still sitting on the front seat but Bonnie had left the car and was walking up a hedgerow at the rear of the car."

"I had a piece of rope which was part of a clothesline I had obtained from Bonnie's home. I then placed this rope around

Met Opens Its 70th Season With Successful Production

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera celebrated its 70th anniversary last night with a rebuilt auditorium, a bigger-than-ever, colorful but dignified audience and a modernized "Faust"—the same opera that opened the Met 70 years ago.

The opera performance was a success, musically and production-wise.

The new house arrangement was a success because it provided more seats and bigger returns in the box office, with seats selling for up to $30.

And the Metropolitan's long campaign to turn the opening night back into a cultural occasion, and to suppress the exhibitionists who got out of hand in some past year, appeared to be succeeding, too.

Observers who had called last year's Met opening unusually well-behaved found this one even more so.

Last year a lady appeared in trousers, this year there was not even one outlandish costume or undignified performance to mar the tone of the occasion.

For the opening of the Met's 69th season—there was no season in 1897 because of a fire in the opera house—Manager Rudolf Bing gave opera fans a brand new version of the Gounod classic which opened the venerable opera house in 1883.

He even moved the time of the opera from the middle ages to the middle of the 19th century, with new costumes to match—including a Mephistopheles in tails.

Also new was Mephistopheles' voice, that of Nicola Rossi-Lemeni, Constantinople.

Dewey May Try to Get Him to Quit

Late Afternoon Parley
Scheduled on Wicks
— Says Resignation
'Not Mentioned'

Albany, Nov. 17 (AP)—In a sudden switch of strategy, Republican senators today postponed a conference showdown on the fate of Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks as Senate leader.

The 37 GOP members forming the majority of the smaller house did not discuss the question of the move to oust Wicks as majority leader and temporary president of the Senate.

The senators decided they had the votes to pass the Republican-sponsored bill to reappoint the Senate and Assembly districts, then voted to hold a late afternoon conference on the Wicks question.

Resignation 'Not Mentioned'
Wicks, who called the conference, said the question of his resignation was "not mentioned."

This immediately prompted speculation that an 11th-hour attempt would be made by the Dewey-Taylor forces to obtain Wicks' resignation as leader and thus prevent a bitter showdown battle on the Senate floor.

There was speculation also that postponement of the move to oust Wicks by declaring his leadership office vacant also may indicate that the Republican high command wished to delay the election of a successor, should Wicks go.

There was nothing to indicate, however, that the Dewey forces, spearheaded by Dean P. Taylor, Republican state chairman, had changed their minds about getting rid of Wicks.

This noon's developments raised only the question of whether Wicks finally might be persuaded to resign or be forced out through a formal vote in the Senate.

Senators explained after the 45-minute conference, held in the Senate finance committee room, that Wicks had asked the senators what they wanted to consider first and they said reappointment.

While the huddle was on, Gov. Dewey remained in his office floor below.

The Wicks crisis arose from the 65-year-old Senator's visits to labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay in Sing Sing prison.

Dewey said he considered the visits improper and pressed Wicks to resign. Wicks refused and even as late as 11 a. m. today was reiterating that he would fight to the finish.

The Senate went into session immediately after the conference and began to consider the reappointment measure.

Wicks Presides
The GOP senators filed directly from the conference to the Senate chamber. Wicks, presiding over the House for the first time since the resignation of Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, banged the gavel at 12:01 p. m.

There was standing room only in the galleries on each side of the paneled, carpeted chamber, and more than 100 spectators stood along the walls on three sides.

Meanwhile, speculation grew as to Wicks' successor as leader, assuming he quits or is ousted.

Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo and Sen. John Hughes of Syracuse appeared to be the chief rivals for the big job.

Before the conference informed sources said the successor question might not be decided until tomorrow.

Quake Is Recorded
New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Lamont Geological Observatory of Columbia University today reported it had recorded a "very serious earthquake" about 2,200 miles southwest of here, probably in Mexico or off the Mexican coast.

The observatory reported the first tremor at 8:36 a. m. (EST). An official termed it "a very severe shock for the North American continent."

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, Nov. 17—A special meeting of the Community Association of Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant, Inc., was held in the former schoolhouse Wednesday night. Election of officers was held and the following are the new officers: Joseph Haver, president; Burton Lane, vice president; Charlotte Carle, secretary; Lillian Lane, treasurer; Marian Umhey, Alfred Ramsell and Harry Carle were elected directors. Members decided in favor of the Association purchasing the children's gifts to be handed out by Santa Claus at the annual community Christmas Party. They also voted to give a donation to the Ontario P-TA Welfare and Loan Fund.

Mrs. Thomas McCrosson and Mrs. William Harkupt spent Friday in Kingston.

The dinner held by the Phoenicia Chamber of Commerce at the Brookside House Thursday night was well attended.

Mrs. William Hrasenek and son William, Jr., of New York and Mt. Tremper spent the weekend at their home on the Wittenberg road.

Mrs. Anthony Hegner, who recently was discharged as a patient from Kingston Hospital, is now a patient at a nursing home in Kingston.

Orto Umhey is enjoying a vacation. He plans to spend most of the time hunting.

Bombers Join Drive

Nairobi, Kenya, Nov. 17 (AP)—Four Lincoln heavy bombers from the Middle East Command have arrived here to take part immediately in an intensified air drive against the anti-white Mau Mau terrorists in the Aberdare and Mt. Kenya Forest areas. Announcing this today, Col. A. D. Tree, who commands the new combined army and air force operations center set up over the weekend, said: "The army wants to produce a very loud bang."

Half of American women who reach age 65 will live 15 years longer and a third of them will live for 20 years.

Program Is Broadened

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Republicans moved today to broaden the base of congressional participation in drafting the GOP program President Eisenhower will recommend next year. Sen.

Knowland (R-Calif.) announced after telephone conferences with Rep. Halleck (R-Ind.) that chairmen of the regular committees of both Houses will be invited to attend White House sessions Dec. 17-19 when subjects in which their groups are interested come up for discussion. Knowland and Halleck are Republican floor leaders of the Senate and House, respectively.

The ancient Druids believed that the dead atoned for their sins by residing in the bodies of animals.

Victim Returned to U. S.

Mitchel Air Force Base, Nov. 17 (AP)—A U. S. Air Force plane today brought a Yonkers, N. Y., polio victim back to this country from Acapulco, Mexico. Miss Rita Gluck, 32, the victim, was stricken while on vacation from her post on the public relations staff at New York Hospital in New York. The plane, with a small iron lung and a crew of 12 including doctors and nurses, arrived here shortly after midnight. Miss Gluck was taken to New York

Hospital in a private ambulance. Her flight home was arranged by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

There's a standard way of playing the cards in the sort of hand shown today. When the hand was actually played, South didn't know this standard method, and he lost his vulnerable game as a result.

West opened the queen of diamonds, and South won with the ace. He drew three rounds of trumps and then returned to the diamonds. He discovered that West was bound to win two diamond tricks, and a spade pushed through dummy's king gave the defenders two spade tricks. Down one.

South said that he was unlucky that the diamonds were 4-1. He was right. He said that it took more than a bad diamond break to beat him; for he would have made his contract if the ace of spades had been favorably placed. He was right again. But he was wrong in the way he had played the hand, for he should have made his contract despite both of the bad breaks.

South made his mistake when he drew three rounds of trumps. If the diamonds break normally, a second high diamond can be cashed safely even before the trumps are drawn. If the diamonds break badly, it is important to leave some trumps in dummy to cope with the situation.

The right line of play is to win the first trick with the ace of diamonds and then to lead only one trump to dummy's king. A small diamond is then returned towards South's hand. If the suit breaks normally, South will take the king of diamonds, give up a diamond, draw trumps, and take at least 10 tricks.

When the low diamond is led from dummy, East may either ruff or discard. If East ruffs and returns a club, South wins, draws one more trump with the queen, and then cashes the king of diamonds. This gets by safely, and South can ruff a low diamond with dummy's jack to set up his last diamond. The rest is easy.

If East discards when the low diamond is led from dummy, South wins with the king of diamonds and gives up a diamond. He can easily regain the lead, ruff a diamond with dummy's jack of hearts, and take 10 easy tricks.

individual for a long time without revealing any alarming symptoms, he said. Yet, left untreated, it may grow more serious and prove fatal in time.

On the other hand, Dr. Bight said, diabetes is one of the few chronic ailments for which medical science has a well established method of control. This basic disorder—lack of ability in the body to convert sugars and starches into energy—can't be cured. But since the discovery of insulin 32 years ago, it has been readily possible to correct the deficiency and enable the diabetic to live a near normal, active life.

In fact, doctors have found many cases of diabetes, especially in older persons, can be controlled by diet, with intake of sugar and starch restricted and with no use of insulin needed.

A simple urinalysis, which takes only a few minutes, to determine whether there is excess sugar in the body, is the initial test for diabetes. Everyone should have such an examination, Dr. Bight said, either from his personal physician or by means of the community-wide testing facilities provided during Diabetes Week.

The test is particularly important for anyone who is overweight, who is past 40, or who has diabetes among his blood relatives. But it is a safety first measure for everybody, it was added.

DIABETES DETECTION CAMPAIGN

This is Diabetes Detection Week in Ulster county and all local residents are urged to participate in the drive by taking a labeled urine specimen to his neighborhood drug store for free testing.

Industrial concerns are encouraging their employees to be tested this week and the schools of the city and county are cooperating.

With the continued cooperation of the public with the local medical society, this disease, which has been taking a heavy toll of life, can be conquered. Where results of the test indicated the need for further study, both the patient and the designated physician will be notified. Diabetes can be controlled, provided it is detected.

Medical authorities state that overweight is a predisposing factor for diabetes. Everyone who carries excess poundage should have a test for diabetes.

A diabetic as a worker is as satisfactory as anybody else, if his ailment is diagnosed early and if he keeps it under control by following his doctor's instructions. More and more employers are recognizing that fact and cooperating in the medical profession's efforts to bring undetected efforts to light and give them the care they need.

Diabetes is far less common in children than in adults, but it does occur at young ages.

The big challenge before the people is to detect its symptoms promptly. This is the purpose of the drive being held this week.

President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, was recently presented with a burro by the Chamber of Commerce. A fine gift for a man whose job is to do the best he can to keep the elephant in and the donkey out of Washington.

POWER BALANCING

France has been reluctant to give unqualified support to the idea of a European army because she fears possible domination of such a military machine by her ancient enemy, Germany. The French answer to this problem seems to be an alliance with Britain, an agreement which would counterbalance any possible gain in German strength.

French Foreign Minister George Bidault has outlined several conditions which must be met if France is to participate in the European army. The most important of these conditions is assurance that negotiations be conducted which will bring a closer military and political relationship between France and Britain.

Twice within 25 years France has suffered from German invasions. So she has no intention of building up Germany to the point where German aggression would be possible again unless she is given assurance that that power will be kept in check.

In the common interest of keeping Europe safe from communism it is necessary to rebuild German strength. The position France has taken is understandable and it is difficult to find fault with her fears. The problem is not insurmountable, however, and The European Army may yet materialize with both French and German troops serving as comrades-in-arms.

When the never-slow-down youngsters are ripping along when they are at three or four years of age, some parents are inclined to wonder why their start was ever termed a blessed event.

FIGHT WON'T HELP

Reports filtering out from the Randall Commission looking into the foreign trade problem are that this group will issue both a majority and a minority report when its work is done early next year.

The majority document will, it is said, put the group on record in favor of lower tariffs for the U. S., while the minority will take an opposite view. If this happens, a bitter, open fight in Congress is in prospect.

The members of the commission might be well advised to try to prevent the kind of public division of sentiment which will guarantee that sort of fight. For one thing seems

PROGRESSIVE LAWYERS

San Francisco, Nov. 16—It is often a cause for wonder why so many of our young people are recruited for movements which are harmful to their own country. Obviously, the fault lies in the process of education, for ideas can be instilled in youth against which they have neither the knowledge nor experience to set up an adequate defense.

A large number of subversives are lawyers, which is not extraordinary in a country where there are so many lawyers and where they play so great a part in its political life. Perhaps in no other country are lawyers so ubiquitous or so important. They are usually sharp-witted in the presentation of an argument. They are, by profession, advocates for a cause. Professor Thomas I. Emerson, professor of law at Yale and a Past President of the National Lawyers Guild, has stated the philosophy of the law in these terms:

"... Law is an instrument not only for embodying the wisdom of the past, but for easing the transition to the future. It is a device for maintaining a balance between the old and the new. Thus, it is an essential tool in solving our difficulties without a holocaust."

Many theories exist as to what the law is. To some the law is nothing more than an act of legislation, man-made and to be unmade by man. The law is therefore without aim, without purpose, without a moral basis. The greatest modern American jurist, Oliver Wendell Holmes, believed that the law was an expression of power and nothing else. He stated his view as follows:

"Sovereignty is a form of power, and the will of the sovereign is law because he has power to compel obedience or punish disobedience and for no other reason. The limits within which his will is law then, are those within which he has, or is believed to have power to compel or punish."

Professor Emerson makes the law more than that. He makes the law a bridge between one era and another, between one doctrine and another. Its objective is apparently to achieve progress without revolution, to attain perhaps the object of revolution without using the means of revolution.

Attorney General Brownell has stated that he plans to cite the National Lawyers Guild as a subversive organization and has arranged for hearings. It has been found in the past that lawyers who have been associated with Communist cases have also been associated with the National Lawyers Guild. Therefore, it is interesting to quote this paragraph from Emerson:

"... For leadership in developing legal concepts and institutions necessary to meet the new problems of the day the American people must look in large measure to the law schools. And here the law students are in a strategic position, the spark and many of the ideas that are essential to progress."

We move here from the law which is to achieve progress without revolution to the use of law schools to recruit the manpower and the leadership for the tasks of progress.

But the term progress is not defined. The Communists use "progressive" to identify themselves, but I do not know whether Professor Emerson has that in mind. It is a commonly used word without definition. Nevertheless, as these quotations from Professor Emerson are taken from a circular issued by the Student Division of the National Lawyers Guild, entitled "An Invitation to Law Students," one cannot help but wonder.

The special objectives of the Student Division of the Lawyers Guild are:

"1. To eliminate discrimination among applicants for admission to law schools on the basis of race, color, creed, sex, or national origin.

"2. To aid in improving the existing conditions, methods, and standards of legal education in the United States.

"3. To aid in supplementing the academic training of the law schools by organizing programs designed to further a rapid and successful transfer to the practice of law as by lectures, court visits, on-the-job training, special research projects, etc.

"4. To aid law students and graduates in securing associations with law offices, and to support efforts to increase the available opportunities for students and recent graduates to work in law offices and other fields of legal endeavor."

The Attorney General will hold hearings giving the National Lawyers Guild an opportunity to defend itself against charges of subversion. Involved in these hearings will be the question of its future usefulness in the law schools of the country. (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

OVERWEIGHT

A physician wrote the editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association asking if it were true that overweight (obesity) shortened the life span. He received the following reply:

A mortality (death rate) study of overweight by Dublin and Marks of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (1951) showed long-range benefit from weight reduction. This study was based on persons who were not given standard insurance, entirely because they were overweight. The study covered persons (overweight) insured during the years 1925 to 1934 and traced to 1950. The death rate of all overweight persons in the study was significantly higher than that of standard risk persons.

A separate study was then made of those overweight who reduced their weight to the extent that they were given standard insurance. Among both men and women the death rate after reducing their weight was substantially less than that for all of the overweight persons studied. Among men the reduction in weight was of the order of one-fifth and among women about one-third.

What we must remember is that life insurance medical examiners follow exacting rules regarding overweight; they do not take any chances because life insurance is like any other business, a matter of earning or losing money. If the individual who is overweight then reduces his weight to normal, or his height and build, and keep his weight at this figure, he is given insurance at standard rates as long as he does so.

The editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, which journal reflects the opinion of the great mass of its membership, thus states regarding overweight and the life span: "The above information is perhaps the best evidence produced to date that weight control pays and is also the most practical approach now available to the problem of preventing or retarding the major degenerative diseases of middle and later life."

We must remember that these men and women had no defects or diseases other than overweight for which they were refused standard insurance. Then, by reducing their weight, and this is all they did, they were accepted by the life insurance company for standard insurance.

Also, the death rate among overweight who did not reduce their weight was "significantly" higher than those who did reduce weight and who kept their weight at the required weight for height and build.

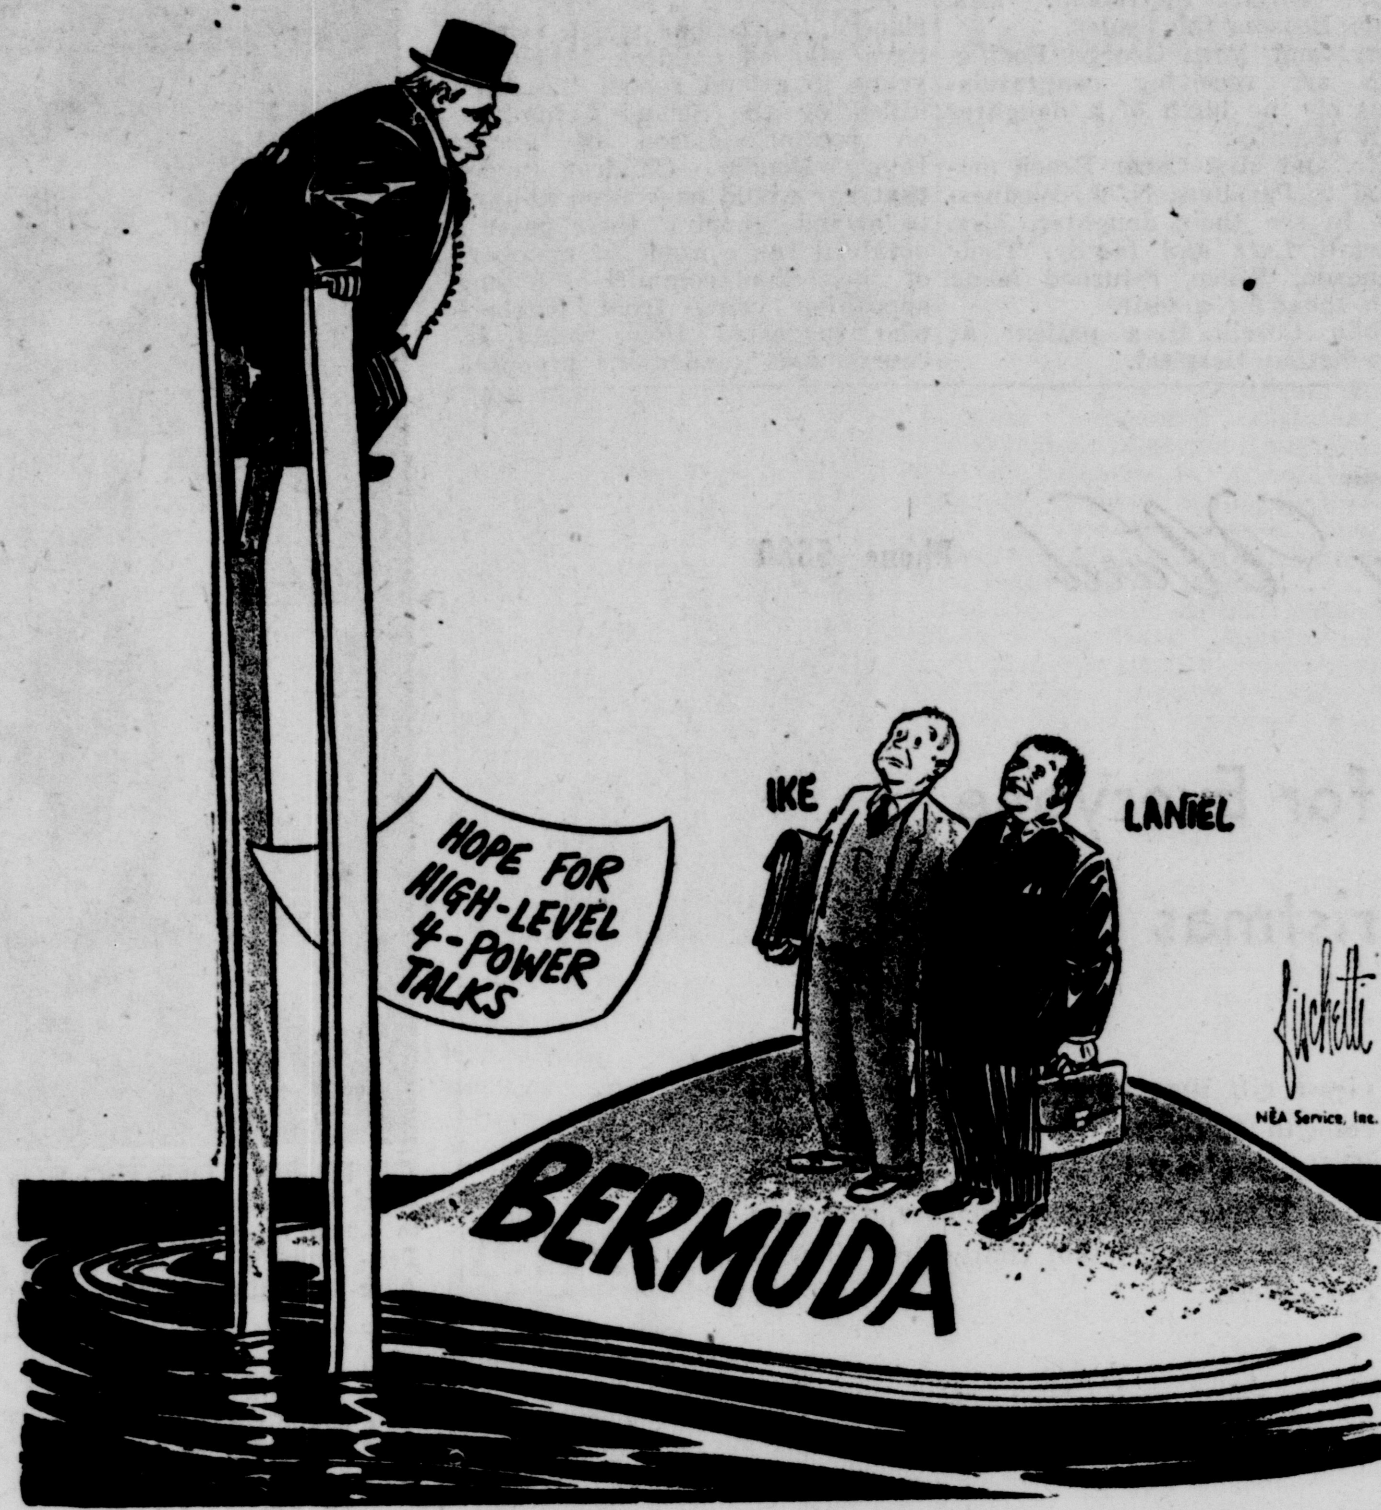

The life insurance companies know from the records of thousands of policy holders that overweight is a forerunner of diabetes and various degenerative diseases.

"I Brought These Along--Just in Case"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—Attorney General Herbert Brownell's second statement on the case of the late Harry Dexter White, former Treasury official accused of having been a Communist spy, seemed to throw a shadow on three other high Democrats, in addition to ex-President Harry Truman.

One is the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who was Secretary of the Treasury when White was moved from Assistant Secretary to U. S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund. Another is ex-Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, under whom White rose to national and international prominence.

The third is ex-Attorney General Tom Clark, now an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. If there was evidence in the Federal Bureau of Investigation that White was a spy, the question which it would seem only Mr. Clark can answer is why was he not brought to trial?

Many people are stepping forward to claim that they warned the government against Harry Dexter White in the early 1940's. Actually, White's Communist connections first became known at the time Whitaker Chambers prepared a list of alleged Communists which was taken to Assistant Secretary of State Adolph Berle in 1939. Isaac Don Levine was the intermediary in this action. White's name was not actually on this list but his Communist associations were made known to Secretary Morgenthau. Nothing happened.

Then in 1943 the FBI visited Whitaker Chambers on his Maryland farm. Chambers called Berle and asked his permission to give the FBI what he had. Berle approved.

White Denied All in 1948

In November 1945 the FBI completed its big report on Communist espionage. This is the report that went to President Truman and got lost after being delivered to Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan. This was not a report on White alone, but on all espionage, Brownell now reveals.

White was called before the House Un-American Activities Committee in August 1948 and denied all accusations against him. But three months later Chambers turned over to the FBI an eight-page memo, later declared by experts to be in Mr. White's handwriting. Chambers said White had given it to him for relay to Russian agents.

Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley mentioned Harry Dexter White in the course of the Alger Hiss case investigation. They made charges against him in more detail in the Senate hearings on the Institute of Pacific Relations in 1951.

Said Whitaker Chambers: "Harry Dexter White was not a member of the Communist party as near as I know, and I believe that is true because he was reluctant to accept any form of discipline. I had the impression that he was a man of such character that he enjoyed being of the Communist party but not in the party and not subject to its discipline. In that relationship he was willing to go to great lengths to assist them."

Elizabeth Bentley Testifies

Said Elizabeth Bentley: "I couldn't tell you that he had actually been a member of the Communist party, but to all intents and purposes he was because he followed its discipline."

"According to Nathan Silvermaster he was afraid to meet people like myself. He had for some years been working for an agent who turned sour, later identified as Whitaker Chambers. That had given him a terrific fright and he stayed away for a while from these activities.

"Then he met the Silvermasters and they brought him back into their group. His attitude was that I am going to help you, but my right hand doesn't know what the left is doing. Therefore he didn't want to meet anyone he knew was a Soviet agent. He wanted to pass it through Silvermaster to me."

Miss Bentley was asked by Counsel Robert Morris if she had received confidential records from White.

"Many of them," she replied, "all labeled from 'Harry' because Soviet agents like to know who is providing what. . . . Many, many times those documents were photographed in the Silvermaster cellar because they couldn't be spared. . . ."

"We were successful in getting information during the war largely because of Harry White's idea to persuade Morgenthau to exchange information. In other words, he would send the information over to Navy and Navy would reciprocate. So there were at least seven or eight agencies trading information with Secretary Morgenthau. This plan was initiated by White because he knew it would all cross his desk."

Bushnellville

Bushnellville, Nov. 17—At the election of officers meeting of the Bushnellville Chamber of Commerce held at the Hoffman House Nov. 12, the following officers were elected: Erwin Bier, president; Mason Gosso, secretary; Thomas Cherveney, treasurer; William R. Hoffmann, publicity director. Heinz Henf, who acted as secretary for the past three years, declined to accept for another term. President Bier thanked Mr. Henf for his loyal support and activities for the benefit of Bushnellville.

John Rossitz bagged an eight-point buck Sunday at 9:30 a. m. Dr. Joseph Roberts of Flushing, L. I., the guest of E. Bier and Mrs. Marie Bier during the hunting season.

William R. Hoffmann returned from a two-day visit to New York where he attended the 38th National Hotel Exposition held at the Kingsbridge Armory.

Mrs. Helen Elisabeth Shann of Kingston spent Saturday afternoon with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hirst.

A petition signed by a majority of the resident-taxpayers of Bushnellville for admittance to the Fire Protection District of Shandaken was submitted to the Bushnellville Chamber of Commerce last week. At present Bushnellville is not incorporated by any Fire Protection District.

Mrs. Marie Bier spent last weekend in Little Neck, L. I., visiting her sons.

Miss Helen Elisabeth Shann of Kingston took her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Hirst, for a visit to her cousins in Palenville.

Willy Drexler of Hartford, Conn., guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Rossitz, bagged a four-point buck Sunday morning.

Questions—Answers

Q—Can the President of the United States veto specific items in a bill passed by Congress?

A—No. The President cannot approve just parts of a bill, but must approve it in full or turn it down in full.

Q—Is the Communist party legal in Brazil?

A—No. It was outlawed in 1947.

Q—What is the Celsius scale of temperature?

A—This is the same as the Centigrade scale in which the freezing point of water (32 degrees F.) is zero, and the boiling point 212 degrees F.) is 100 degrees.

Diplomatic Recognition Has Been Violated Ever Since U. S. Granted Privileges to Soviets

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 17—Twenty years ago this week the United States government extended diplomatic recognition to the Soviet government in Moscow—and the record shows that every year since, the Communist government has violated the solemn pledges given on that date.

The United States for 16 years—from 1917 to 1933—under Republican as well as Democratic administrations, had withheld recognition even though the Communist regime exercised complete military control of all the Soviet territory. The reason was that the Communist regime had not shown itself willing or capable of honoring international obligations and had insisted on the right to infiltrate the territory of this country with its organizations.

The story of Harry Dexter White, Alger Hiss and the many others who promoted the Communist cause while employed by the United States government would not be in the headlines today except for the presence of Communist agents such as Elizabeth Bentley, Whittaker Chambers and others who operated at the behest of Russian agents, many of them functioning directly out of the Russian Embassy in Washington, and Russian Consulates in different parts of the country.

The proof is voluminous that the Soviet government has maintained a system of espionage in this country. The records of the FBI and of the Senate and House committees for nearly 20 years have revealed such espionage and infiltration.

Anybody who reads the pledges given by Soviet Russia and then looks at the headlines of today will see at a glance how flagrantly the Soviet regime has violated the pledge it gave the late President Roosevelt when he extended recognition November 16, 1933.

The case for the "de-recognition" of the Soviet government has been made by the Soviet agents in this country themselves. The severance of diplomatic relations now would be logical in view of the breaking of the agreement of 1933 signed by Foreign Secretary Litvinoff, which read as follows:

"1. Coincident with the establishment of diplomatic relations between our two governments it will be the fixed policy of the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics: To respect scrupulously the indisputable right to the United States to order its own life within its own jurisdiction in its own way and to refrain from interfering in any manner in the internal affairs of the United States, its territories or possessions."

"2. To refrain, and to restrain all persons in government service and all organizations of the government or under its direct or indirect control, including organizations in receipt of any financial assistance from it, from any act overt or covert liable in any way whatsoever to injure the tranquility, prosperity, order, or security of the whole or any part of the United States, its territories or possessions, and, in particular, from any act tending to incite or encourage armed intervention, or any agitation or propaganda having as an aim, the violation of the territorial integrity of the United States, its territories or possessions, or the bringing about of a change in the political or social order of the whole or any part of the United States, its territories or possessions."

"3. Not to permit the formation or residence on its territory of any organization or group—and to prevent the activity on its territory of any organization or group, or of representatives or officials of any organization or group—which makes claim to be the government of, or makes attempt upon the territorial integrity of, the United States, its territories or possessions, not to form, subsidize, support or permit on its territory military organizations or groups having the aim of armed struggle against the United States, its territories or possessions, and to prevent any recruiting on behalf of such organizations and groups."

"4. Not to permit the formation or residence on its territory of any organization or group—and to prevent the activity on its territory of any organization or group, or of representatives or officials of any organization or group—which has as an aim the overthrow of, or the bringing about by force of a change in, the political or social order of the whole or any part of the United States, its territories or possessions."

The United States Government has never set up any organizations inside Soviet Russia and it may have violated the territorial integrity of the Soviet Government. But the Soviet regime recently in connection with the Korean war publicly admitted that the United Nations meeting in New York City that it had furnished arms and ammunition to the Red Chinese Government which had been pronounced an aggressor by vote of the UN. More than 140,000 American casualties have been recorded in Korea.

So, on two counts—the breaking of the letter of the UN charter and the violation of a specific agreement with the United States—the Soviet regime is not entitled to any further consideration as the recognized government of Russia. An act withdrawing recognition would afford great hope not only to the oppressed people of Russia but to the people of the satellite states behind the Iron Curtain. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Nov. 16—If Congress will just quietly ignore President Eisenhower and keep driving it can reveal at last the whole truth about the mysterious Sam Carp of Bridgeport, Conn., a brother-in-law of Vyacheslav Molotov, the Soviet foreign commissar. Carp made many trips to Russia and came back loaded with money plus authority to spend $150,000,000 or $200,000,000 for industrial materials and war gear. He has been examined three times by congressional committees but the whole truth has not yet been told.

Last spring an occasion or pretext was found for a news story under a Bridgeport date-line wherein Carp was gratuitously given an opportunity to express his devotion to this country. His loyalty has not been impugned nor has any of the three committees suggested that he ever was a member of the Communist party. But he is a puzzling witness who often seems to be a classical greenhorn, speaking an amusing dialect and possibly playing for laughs.

In one such passage he said: "To tell you the truth, I am subject to forgetting. I want to tell you, Mr. Senator (this was a House Committee hearing) I want to tell everybody the truth. But sometimes I can forget a thing, you know."

By contrast with this disarming presence, Carp has been a very successful trader among the Connecticut Yankees and is a rich man.

He was first examined in September 1939. He was called back in September 1945, but was examined in executive session, a courtesy shown to few witnesses. This examination was stopped abruptly by a request telephoned from the office of Dean Acheson, then acting secretary of state.

John S. Wood, of Georgia, chairman, explained that Acheson was afraid relations with Soviet Russia might be jeopardized.

Carp's sister is Molotov's wife.

So They Say...

We in Greece believe that the UN's ultimate mission is constructively to unite all nations into one great and all-inclusive family.

—King Paul of Greece.

It is unfair and politically unrealistic for anyone in Europe to base his case on economic stability on the United States lowering its tariff.

—Irish Foreign Minister Aiken.

We must maintain a strong military posture for the long haul. This will require the utmost in economy and management.

—Adm. Robert Carney.

She visited his home in Bridgeport on a state visit to this country but was covered by Soviet guards throughout the trip. Robert Stripling, formerly chief investigator for the committee, recently told me that Acheson later demanded that the committee excuse Carp altogether. This was at the time when Bubblehead Wallace, Harry Hopkins and Averell Harriman were thrusting billions of dollars worth of American machinery onto the ill-disguised enemy with the plain intention of building up Russia's industrial "potential" for her post-war development.

The third examination occurred a few weeks ago. This time Carp was called before the Jenner committee of the Senate and questioned by Robert Morris, counsel. The examination was brief and not very searching. Here, again, the hearing was private.

The text of the second examination leaked out soon afterward. I received a copy from a member of Congress who was fighting the Brien McMahon New Deal machine, a terroristic layout concentrated in Fairfield county, Conn. The committee members were angry at Acheson's interference. Once one copy is out, secrecy is gone because others can then quote it as fast as a typist can do the work.

This time the committee was trying to find out whether Carp put any Soviet money into a New Deal paper in Connecticut which often followed the Communist line. This paper was friendly to McMahon and violently abused all within its field who opposed Roosevelt's anything. Carp denied that any of the Soviet money went into the paper, but strong influences prevented examination of the paper's stock records and financial books as well as Carp's.

Opponents of the New Deal in the same internal revenue district were put to the most searching examination by order of a political appointee who owed his job to McMahon. The publisher of the paper gave suggestions to the internal revenue Democrats and submissive Republicans never were bothered. One of the richest men in the county recently told me that he had been examined only once in his life. Another rich man, said he never had been examined. Both are Republicans, but quiet operators. Unlabeled new rule, all returns of more than $25,000 gross must be examined. There is no reason why Carp's accounts, those of his trading corporation, and those of the publishing company and its individual owners and editors should not be combed by congressional experts.

WALLKILL NEWS

Wallkill, Nov. 17—Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hulse spent a day recently at Poughkeepsie visiting with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bender.

Mrs. William Van Wageningen is visiting friends in Poughkeepsie this week.

Miss Louise Geyer is visiting at the home of her cousins at New-ton, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. George Watson and son of Springfield, Mass., spent Armistice Day with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cameron.

Mrs. Elith Sichter and Miss Anne Rhinehart were hostesses to the Friendly Club group at a birthday party held in honor of Nicholas Cocks who was 80 years old. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Terwilliger, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hulse, Mrs. William Van Wageningen, Mrs. Louise Parli-man, and Mrs. and Mrs. Everett Cameron, as well as Mrs. Sichter, Miss Rhinehart and the guest of honor, Nicholas T. Cocks. A family party was also held on Sunday in his honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Wyck of Wilmington, Vt., spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the homes of their sisters, Miss Helen M. Van Wyck and Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Morehouse.

Mrs. Harry Morehouse was hostess to the Jolly Eight Pinnock Group Wednesday night. Those attending were Mrs. Louisa Parliaman, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Adrian Hulse, Mrs. Hugh Galbraith, Mrs. Everett Cameron, Mrs. Nettie Crookston, Miss Anna Rhinehart, Mrs. Arthur Terwilliger and Mrs. Morehouse.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Wallkill Reformed Church requests that all "wooden shoes" be returned as soon as possible to Mrs. Daniel DuBois. Also the ladies are preparing Christmas parcels to be shipped to Annville, Ky., a domestic mission station of the Reformed Church. Anyone wishing to contribute may contact Mrs. Daniel DuBois. Articles needed are the following: ball-point pens, mechanical pencils, small tools, small toys, tooth brushes and paste, pocket knives, marbles in bags, combs and nail files.

The annual congregational meeting of the Wallkill Reformed Church will be held Friday, Dec. 4, at the church. There will be a dinner preceding the meeting, which will be served by the young adults. Chairmen of the affair are Mrs. Fred C. Terwilliger and George F. Vogel.

DuBois Renamed Farm President

Fred DuBois, Jr., of New Paltz, was re-elected president of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Clubs Association at that group's annual meeting at Firemen's Hall in Kerhonkson on Nov. 12.

Also re-elected were William Coy of Clintondale, vice president, and Harry J. Beatty of Kingston, treasurer. Miss Eleanor Morehouse of Lake Katrine was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Sanford Cross of Kyserville.

Elected to the executive committee of the Farm Department were H. Townsend Velle of Marlborough, Frank Aldrich of Lake Katrine and S. J. Hasbrouck of Kingston. Hasbrouck replaced Francis Davenport of Stone Ridge, who retired under the rule limiting directors to three consecutive three-year terms. The other two were re-elected.

Elected to three-year terms on the Home Department executive committee were Mrs. Ed Sullivan of Milton, Mrs. Thomas Goodman of Lake Katrine and Mrs. William Cranston of Kingston.

Pratt Boice of Kingston, R. V. O. DuBois of Gardiner and Eleanor Morehouse of Lake Katrine were elected to the 4-H Club Department's executive committee.

Mrs. Millard Davis reported the Home Department membership for 1954 presently stands at 1,350. William Coy reported the Farm Bureau memberships renewed numbered 656. Membership rolls have not closed and additional renewals are expected in both departments as well as in the 4-H Clubs.

President DuBois presided at the meeting, one of the largest-attended annual meetings of the Association. A turkey dinner was served by the Patron Grange. Financial reports for each department were read by the treasurer, Harry Beatty, and brief reports on programs were received.

Nominations for Association officers were presented by a committee headed by Vernon Barnhart.

Bond Salesman Accused by State

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—A Wall Street bond salesman, described as a social climber among fashionable Westchester county residents, has been accused of building a fraudulent $250,000 fortune in four months at the expense of some of his neighbors.

State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein announced yesterday that the State Supreme Court had enjoined Seymour S. Zeitlin, 44, from further stock dealings. Goldstein also said the case is being turned over to Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan.

Goldstein said Zeitlin robbed "Peter to pay Paul," pointing out that one fortunate investor of $200,000 actually made a profit of $16,750. However, Goldstein said Zeitlin made the total $216,750 payment with money obtained fraudulently from other persons. The attorney general gave these additional details:

Zeitlin, who started on Wall Street only a year ago, built himself a $150,000 home in Purchase, as a base of operations against wealthy residents in the area.

Methods Are Told

Through misrepresentation and falsehood, Zeitlin induced many persons to entrust funds to him for investment. He then used these funds to create false impressions of success, impressions which in turn induced others to entrust funds to him for investment.

The broker built up his reputation by paying the earlier "investors" with money obtained from later ones. The scheme pyramided until one of his victims complained to authorities, leading to his exposure.

Goldstein, without naming any of those allegedly mulcted, said individual losses ranged from $5,000 to $92,000.

Zeitlin "had an overpowering quest for wealth, social position and egotistical satisfaction which led from small borrowings to the perpetration of a series of gigantic swindles," Goldstein asserted. The attorney general said Zeitlin, in one case, pulled off a deal by doctoring a certified statement from Barclay's Bank Ltd. in London to show he had an account of $99,743 pounds (about $1,700,000) when the balance actually was 34 pounds (about $95).

Until about 1700, it is believed that all iron smelting was done with wood charcoal.

U.S. Tells India Aid May Be Given

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—The United States told India yesterday it has under study the possibility of supplying some military aid to Pakistan—a step which Premier Nehru has said India would regard as an unfriendly act.

The Indian ambassador, G. L. Mehta, conferred with Secretary of State Dulles. Mehta said the question of U. S. aid to Pakistan was discussed. The State Department had no comment.

It was learned, however, that a military aid agreement similar to those the United States has with many other free world nations is under consideration. American officials have denied published stories that the United States is seeking military bases in Pakistan.

India, which has had serious differences with Pakistan, does not get military aid from the United States.

The amount of goods and services turned out by the average American worker increased about two per cent a year from 1870 to 1950.

Saugerties Woman Drowns in Creek

The body of Mrs. Anna C. Whitney, about 60, of Saugerties, was found in the Esopus creek at the village bathing beach about 9:30 a. m. Monday by Saugerties police who had been searching for her for more than two hours.

Mrs. Whitney was reported missing from her home at 7:10 a. m. by her husband, Adelbert Whitney. Patrolman Gordon Keeley began an immediate search of the house and adjoining structures, and he was later joined by Police Sgt. Harold Mills. The policemen worked their way down to the bathing beach about a half-mile from the Whitney home, and Patrolman Keeley spotted an object near a boat, which he said at first appeared to be a buoy. Closer inspection, however, disclosed it was Mrs. Whitney's body, and Coroner Michael A. Galletta was summoned. A verdict of suicide by drowning was given by Galletta.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Seamon Brothers Company funeral home, Saugerties. Burial will be in Blue Mountain Cemetery. Besides her husband, Mrs. Whitney is survived by two sons, Harry and Allen Whitney, both of Saugerties.

Explosions Reported

Maywood, N. J., Nov. 17 (AP)—Three series of explosions at the Maywood Chemical Works today shook a two-mile area of Bergen county and set fire to one of the buildings of the large plant near Route 17. No casualties were reported. No one was working in the explosion area at the time. The first explosions started shortly after 7 a. m. A second series of larger proportion sent clouds of white smoke mushrooming into the sky and were felt in downtown Hackensack, two miles away. A third series of explosions followed some time later.

Two Men Held On 'Jack' Charges

Two New Jersey men were arrested on deer-jacking charges as authorities worked all night Monday in a crack-down on Conservation Law violators.

One of the alleged deer jackers also was accused of carrying a loaded revolver without a permit and using an improper hunting license.

Activity Monday night in the towns of Shandaken and Olive by state troopers, a constable and a game protector also resulted in three additional arrests—one on a charge of possessing an unlicensed automatic pistol and two on the lesser charge of having loaded guns in their cars.

Arrested on charges of violating Section 185 of the Conservation Law—dealing with the taking of deer by use of artificial light—were Charles Henry Wilcox, 29, of Jersey City, and Carl Rosenbaum, 36, of Newark, N. J.

The arrest was made about 10 p. m. along the Bushkill road in the town of Olive after Constable Fred McKoghan of West Shokan notified State Police Cpl. Ray Dunn that he had heard a shot fired from an automobile.

Dunn, Trooper George Whiting, and Game Protector Henry Bernstein converged on the area and placed the two men under arrest.

Says Buck Found
Dunn alleged that they found a "beautiful" six-point buck that had been killed. The deer was turned over to Bernstein to be held in a cooler pending disposition of the case.

Investigation revealed, Dunn alleged, that Rosenbaum was driving his car when his headlights picked up the deer on a curve. He stopped and his passenger, Wilcox, jumped out and shot the animal, according to the charges filed against the two men.

A subsequent search uncovered a .32 calibre revolver in Rosenbaum's pocket and disclosed that he was using a New York state resident hunting license although he was a non-resident, Cpl. Dunn charged.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank C. Carle, Rosenbaum waived examination on the charge that he was carrying a pistol without permit and was ordered held for grand jury action.

Unable to Produce
On the deer jacking charge, Wilcox was unable to produce the $400 set as a civil compromise, and Rosenbaum was unable to produce the $200 assessed against him, and both were committed to jail. Wilcox was scheduled to appear before Justice Carle tonight on the case, and warrants charging Rosenbaum with violation of the conservation law and using a false hunting license were issued, to be served if he goes free on bail while awaiting the grand jury on the pistol charge.

Earlier the same evening, Dunn, Whitney and Bernstein had set up a roadblock along the Woodland Valley road, and had arrested Donald J. Petterson, Jr., of Park Ridge, N. J., on a charge of possessing a .45 calibre automatic without a permit. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Raymond Smith of the town of Shandaken, Petterson waived examination and was ordered held for grand jury action. He was released on $100 bail.

Two arrests were also made on charges of carrying loaded guns in cars. The violation is not as serious as that of carrying pistols of concealable weapons without a permit, and the names of the two persons arrested were not immediately available today.

Trial Starts for Slaying of Boy

Carl Austin Hall, right, one of the two confessed kidnap-slayers of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease, turns his head as he enters the U. S. Courthouse in Kansas City, Mo., for the start of his trial. Accompanying Hall is Deputy U. S. Marshal Marvin Rowland.

Hall Describes

Bobby's neck and endeavored to strangle him.

Says Rope Too Short

"This rope was 12 inches or 15 inches long and was too short for me to hold in my hands and get a good twist. Bobby was struggling and kicking, so I took my .38 calibre revolver and fired what I believed to be two shots at Bobby's head at close range."

"I missed him on the first shot, but the second one entered his head, causing him to bleed profusely and subsequently die. I do not remember exactly what position Bobby was in at the time of his death but I believe that I had pushed him down on the floor of the Plymouth (Mrs. Heady's station wagon)."

"Because of his profuse bleeding from the head, I pulled him out of the station wagon on the side opposite the driver and placed him on the ground. I was certain at this point that the victim was dead. So I picked him up and placed him on the plastic sheet at the rear of the station wagon, wrapping him in this sheet and covering the body over with the old comforter which was in the station wagon."

As the gruesome story was unfolded in the packed courtroom, Robert C. Greenlease, the multi-millionaire father of the little boy, sat just inside the court railing. He was less than eight feet from Hall at the defendant's table.

Greenlease's close associate, Robert Lederman, Tulsa, Okla., who acted as one of the intermediaries in negotiating the $600,000 ransom, sat at Greenlease's side. Lederman is the man who once told Hall over the telephone during the negotiations: "I hope I get to see you some time."

At that time, Hall told him "you never will have that opportunity."

With Tight Lips

The jurors listened with tight lips late yesterday as the confession of the 41-year-old Mrs. Heady, once a respectable housewife who turned drunkard, gave the grim details of how Carl Austin Hall, dope addict and ex-convict, shot to death 6-year-old Bobby soon after his abduction.

The boy's multi-millionaire father, Robert C. Greenlease, heard them from a front seat in the crowded courtroom. He seemed to stee himself as the shocking details were unfolded.

On the short time before he had been on the witness stand to identify Bobby's photograph and some of the belongings he had with him the day of the kidnapping. He swallowed hard. Sometimes his voice dropped to the point where it was hard to hear him.

It was the first time the public had heard the full confession. U. S. Dist. Atty. Edward Scheuefler stood stiff before the jury as he read the 26 pages.

The confession of Mrs. Heady told how Hall shot the little boy when he found a cord he had planned to use to strangle him was too short. It told, too, how the couple earlier had been frustrated in an attempt to abduct the boy's 11-year-old sister, Virginia Sue.

Mrs. Heady appeared almost bored as Scheuefler read the confession in a flat, dry voice. Only once in the 44 minutes it took to read it did she appear affected. That was when Scheuefler reached the point where she told how she drank herself almost into insensibility following the kidnapping-slaying Sept. 28.

"I wanted to stay drunk so that my conscience wouldn't bother me," the confession read.

Her mouth twitched at that point. And her eyes wandered around the crowded courtroom almost as though she was looking for just one friend.

Adds New Horror

Each paragraph of the confession added new horror.

It related how Bobby, abducted by Mrs. Heady from a private Catholic school on the ruse she was his aunt, accompanied her and Hall willingly in their car to a wheat field in Kansas.

Arrives for Trial

Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, handcuffed and chained, walks into the United States Courthouse in Kansas City, Nov. 16 for the start of the Greenlease kidnapping trial. Mrs. Heady, one of the confessed kidnap-slayers of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease, is accompanied by an unidentified matron.

rear of the station wagon in preparation for Bobby's slaying.

Followed Her Dog
Mrs. Heady's Boxer dog, Doc, had jumped out of the car, causing his alcoholic mistress to fear he might run off. She followed the dog, taken on the kidnapping trip to keep any one from becoming suspicious about seeing a child in a station wagon.

Mrs. Heady's confession said she had walked only about 75 or 100 feet when she heard two shots.

"After he completed wrapping up the body, I helped Carl lift the body into the station wagon."

Had Blood on Face

"At this time I noticed that Carl had blood on his face, coat and hands, removing as much blood as I possibly could."

"I recall asking Carl at that point why he shot the victim and he told me he tried to strangle him but the cord was too short."

"And since the boy started to struggle and fight he had to dispose of him by shooting."

The confession went on to tell how the couple stopped at a tavern for some drinks on the way to Mrs. Heady's St. Joseph, Mo., home where a grave had been dug for the body the day before.

Mrs. Heady said the couple finally decided the day before the kidnapping that little Bobby had to be killed to shield them from possible identification.

Had Followed Virginia

The confession brought out that the couple had attempted to kidnap Bobby's 11-year-old sister, Virginia Sue, last September. It said Hall and Mrs. Heady had followed Virginia Sue and her mother to the Country Club Plaza, a fashionable suburban shopping district not far from the Greenlease home. There Mrs. Greenlease went into a store while Virginia Sue stayed in their Cadillac car.

Mrs. Heady's confession related Hall had gone to the Greenlease car but that Virginia Sue suddenly jumped out of it and ran down

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The stock market was lower today but there were ample signs of a recovery tendency.

The decline at the most went to around a point with plus signs small. Many leading issues—especially in the railroads—held up better for long periods.

Prices were lower at the start, a continuation of yesterday's slide, but late in the morning a gradual improvement lifted prices up from their lows. At the same time a few more small plus signs put in an appearance.

Railroads and utilities were steady along with most rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, and air lines. The motors and steels were lower together with oils, chemicals, and some coppers.

10th Set of Twins Is Born in Month

November may be headed to equal October as the month of twins.

Kingston Hospital today reported the 10th set of twins born here to date this year and the second set so far this month. Three sets of twins were born in October.

The twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Evans, of 17 West Strand, early this afternoon.

Board Concerned About Visitors Tiring Patients

Trustees of Kingston Hospital voted last night to start an educational program aimed at teaching the public "to visit patients wisely."

This was decided after discussion of the problem of controlling visitors who sometimes remain too long and exhaust patients. Also discussed was the problem of children under 14 who are as anxious to have visitors as the youngsters are to visit their friends in the hospital.

To Stress Patient Welfare

The educational program will stress the welfare of the patient. Stressed again was the acute shortage of nurses, and it was announced that graduate nurses desiring full or part-time employment, should apply to the director of the nurses' school.

Typhoon Batters Isle

anila, Nov. 17 (AP)—A typhoon whipping up winds of 85 miles per hour blew into the South China Sea tonight after battering northern Luzon Island. The Philippine Weather Bureau said the storm is expected to intensify as it heads for the China mainland between Hong Kong and Swatow. The storm flooded tobacco, corn and rice fields in Isabela, Cagayan and mountain provinces.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Some time ago I received a nice note from Miss E. G. Muller, daughter of Prof. George H. Muller, the late well-known musician of Kingston. She wrote in part that she used to read these columns when she lived in Kingston, but now since she is in Poughkeepsie, it seems she reads it only when her friends save them for her or tell her about some item in the column. She writes, that she heard I wrote an interesting article on her father, Prof. Muller, several months ago, and she would like a copy of it. As I am about a whole year back in pasting these items in my scrap book and marking them, I tried looking for it, but so far did not find it. Perhaps some of the readers have seen it, or have it, or know Miss E. G. Muller. She gave me her address, as c/o Miles Shoe Store, Poughkeepsie. Perhaps other musicians have pictures of her father they would like to share with her. I am sure some very good group pictures were taken, perhaps in uniform, as he played in many places, and especially at the Kingston Point Park in the gay 1920's.

I received an envelope from Brooklyn, addressed in nice handwriting, but there the mystery begins. Inside the envelope, was a program from the old Kingston Opera House, dated Tuesday, matinee and night, November 3, 1914. I just had a chance to show it to Charles M. Rinschler who wrote and produced "The Skillypot or Rondout River showboat at the Old Dutch Church. He also was interested in the program coming from a reader of this column who resides in Brooklyn.

I wonder if I will ever learn the identity of my co-operative reader, for like everything else, it takes time to find a long envelope, to donate a three-cent stamp to the cause and to send it out. Believe me, I certainly appreciate it. I will place it in my scrap book with other items of similar interest. Back in 1914 the Old Homestead was playing in four acts. For the weekend the same company, Manhattan Play Producing Co. presented the Blindness of Virtue, also in four acts. I remember when I used to be taken to the old Opera House plays by my grandmother. I always liked many changes of scenery and many people on the stage who kept moving instead of just talking. Even to this day, three or four actors on the stage without a fast moving plot makes me sleepy.

It is a decorative, well printed program, which has many interesting advertisements such as: "Headquarters for human hair switches and transformations," in large print, at "The Elite" 272-274 Fair Street, opposite Kingston Opera House. That was at the top center of the page where it would be impossible to miss it. The advertisement read: "Any weight and length, at all prices. Guarantee a perfect match to any sample. Most wonderful hair tonic ever known is obtainable here. Will stop hair falling and changing color. (That too in large print). Will keep the hair glossy and healthy. Hundreds of testimonials from people you know, as to its excellence. Superfluous hair removed, electric or hand, face massage, scalp treatment, shampoo, etc., perhaps folks remember "The Elite." Another advertisement stated: "After the show, get some Elmendorf's ice cream and home made candies, fresh daily. Hot chocolate and bullions. Cream delivery to any part of the city. A. B. Elmendorf and Son, 670 Broadway, Kingston."

Lost, One Raft

Superior, Wis. (AP)—Somewhere in Lake Superior's 31,820 square miles of water there is a 5 by 12 foot liferaft afloat and the 515th Air Defense Group wants it back. Lost from an aircraft, about 92 miles northeast of the city of Superior, Wis., the Air Corps has asked Mariners to be on the lookout for the raft and to report its position if it is spotted.

Case Goes to Court

Albany, Nov. 17 (AP)—A group of New York city newspapers and two wire services have laid before the Court of Appeals their arguments challenging the right of a New York city judge to bar press and public from the vice trial of Minot F. Jelke last February. The state's highest court reserved decision after a hearing yesterday. The ban was protested by the Herald-Tribune, Daily News, Daily Mirror, Journal-American, Post, United Press Associations and International News Service.

Alimony Is Asked

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Roddy-Eden, Manville, ninth wife of asbestos heir Tommy Manville, is asking $1,250 a week temporary alimony pending trial of her suit for separation. The former actress also wants $30,000 in fees for her attorney, Amos S. Basel. Her petition became known yesterday when New York State Supreme Court Justice Kenneth O'Brien set Friday for further action. Papers in matrimonial actions are sealed under New York law.

Record Is Topped

Albany, Nov. 17 (AP)—With three months still to go, motor vehicle registrations in the state this year already have topped the previous record total for a full year. Commissioner James R. Macduff reported yesterday that registrations through Sept. 30 totaled 4,170,470. The record for a full year—4,132,815—was set in 1952. Macduff predicted the 1953 total would exceed 4,250,000 double the figure for 25 years ago.

LOVE LETTERS WANTED!

Love is just one of the things you can send to your serviceman overseas through regular letters. Others are faith, hope, encouragement and news. No detail is too trivial. Goings-on at church, club or union; Peggy's knee scratch, painting the north room, the new post office... all of these bring your serviceman closer to the land he loves more than any of us at home can realize. Send letters often and fill them to the edge with words you can be sure will be read and re-read till the next letter comes.

Mr. Coty, also first named to the board to fill an unexpired term, will start his first full term.

The November dinner and meeting of the Ellenville Chapter of the Izaak Walton League will be held Nov. 18 at the Club House at 6:30 p. m.

The Shawangunk Garden Club ended its 1953 season with an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Raymond G. Cox Nov. 9 with 37 members present. The chairman of the nominating committee announced the list of officers for the coming season, Miss Anne Henninger, president; Mrs. John Schoonmaker, first vice-president; Mrs. Gordon Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. William Combe, treasurer; Miss Mabel Osterhoudt, recording secretary; and Mrs. Harold Houghtaling, corresponding secretary. The business part of the meeting opened with the various committee chairmen giving their reports for the entire season, and in closing this part of the meeting Miss Henninger informed the members that Mrs. W. R. King, chairman of the yearbook contest awards, had notified her that the Garden Club had won the second prize of $15 in the above class, with contestants from eight counties. This is the first time the club has won this particular award. The afternoon was brought to a close by an enjoyable musical program arranged by Mrs. Doris E. Fritts, program chairman. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cox, with Mrs. David D. Hurd and Mrs. C. D. Divine assisting at the tea table, which was decorated with interesting arrangements of flowers and leaves, by Mrs. O. M. Savels.

Budget Is Proposed

Albany, Nov. 17 (AP)—Mayor Erastus Corning Jr. tonight submitted a proposed city budget for the next fiscal year totaling $8,740,664 to the Common Council. It is about $3,700 less than the net figure for fiscal 1953.

DOLLARS AT DISCOUNTS

Uncle Sam's floating debt (due within a year) is over $80,000,000,000. Are you one of the many who will receive $1,000, $2,000, or $5,000 in the near future as a result of his maturing obligations? And are you looking for solid values that will pay from four per cent to over five per cent a year?

Dollars are selling at discounts, as I shall show. A reluctant public is always skeptical of such situations. But I do hope that interested readers will study this piece carefully. For security bargains are on the counter today.

In recent years there have been several bank mergers and consolidations in New York city. None of the institutions has been among the top banks. Their shares have been neglected by investors generally. There has been a market for the shares but not a big one. Yet, when these institutions were merged or taken over, the shares were taken in at advances of from around 30 per cent to 100 per cent above market prices. Why did this happen? Just because the sound value of the shares was higher than the public's appraisal. The cool and calculated opinions of bank officers and directors put a premium on the shares over and against the public's judgment.

And, right now, there are such bargains in the New York city market.

Five big New York banks: National City Bank, Chase National Bank, Guaranty Trust Company,

Hanover Bank and First National Bank of New York have total resources of $17,000,000,000. They are giant institutions with roots deep in the world's economic soil. Today, their capital accounts (capital, surplus and undivided profits) total $1,450,000,000. Furthermore, the banks' real estate assets are most conservatively evaluated.

As I write this, the market value of the shares of these five institutions is about $1,270,000,000 or $180,000,000 lower than the admitted value as carried by the financial statements. So, here are dollars selling at a discount of over 12 per cent.

Now turn back to the merger and consolidation figures. In every case prices were from 30 per cent to 100 per cent higher than market. Yet none of these banks could compare in size and strength with the five mentioned here.

Bank shares are money shares. They belong in every well-diversified portfolio. They wear well. I went to work for the world's largest trust company in 1919 and my mentor—a senior vice-president—encouraged me to buy 10 shares on partial payments with my savings. It took me two years to pay for them.

I still hold them and I expect to die with them. They have paid me a dividend every 90 days. They go up and down in price. But I hold and hold.

A carefully-selected group of these shares can be bought to yield around five per cent. There is growth in them. They are stable in character. Banks don't have labor trouble and high-priced inventories. They are non-assessable.

For investors coming into maturing bond money these dollar values at discounts are attractive. I think. In New York city, bank stock dealers make excellent markets for these shares without commission charges. Bank shares of this quality are prime collateral for loans. Whether an investor wants to buy or sell five or 500 shares, the markets will take care of him.

The Forum

(Q) "I have in hand $10,000 of maturing savings money. Would it be all right to put it in these bank shares? If so, which ones?"

(A) Yes, it would. Select two or three that appeal most to you. Some have more growth than others. And one, selling way under intrinsic value, reflects this. Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

Kerhonkson P-TA Elects Officers

The P-TA of the Kerhonkson Public Schools elected officers at a recent meeting. L. to r. Mrs. H. Sherman, treasurer; Mrs. V. Christiana, secretary; F. Kelder, president; and Mrs. F. W. Harkins, vice president. R. A. Riegel, principal of the schools, stands at the far right.

Kerhonkson News
Of School Notes

Robert W. Stewart, field representative of the State Commission against Discrimination, spoke November 4 to the senior, junior and sophomore classes of Kerhonkson High School. His program included two short films on race discrimination. Opportunity Unlimited presented the problems facing Jewish people in applying for jobs and the wonderful job that organized labor is doing to help put a stop to discrimination.

The second film, An Equal Chance, illustrated the same problems facing Negroes and what the commission has accomplished in its crusade.

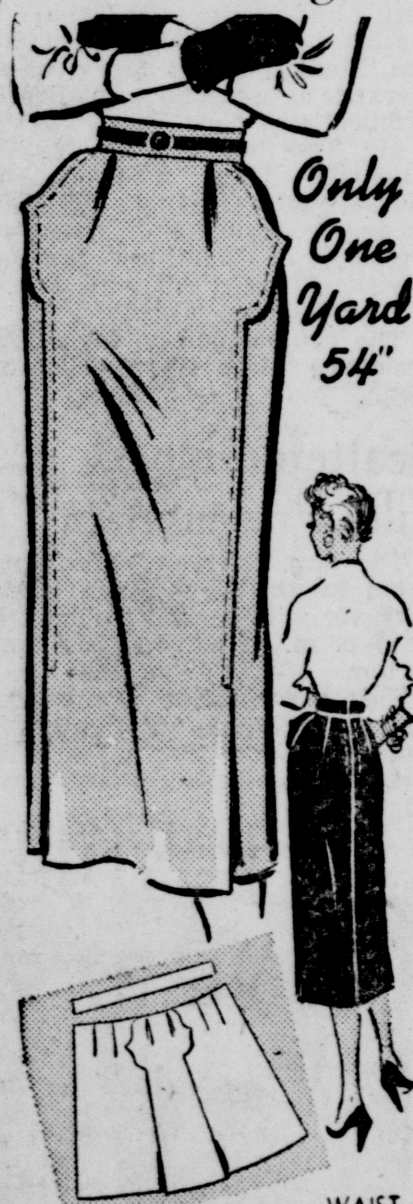

A lively question and answer period followed. Some interesting statements made by Stewart were: "We've made over 700 different tests and find the only difference between races is their complexion." The discussion was carried further in other classes.

P-TA Open House

The second yearly open house program sponsored by the P-TA of Kerhonkson took place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, when 200 parents came to the school to take the place of their children during the day's activities. During the 10 minute class sessions they had an opportunity to discuss the curriculum, books and materials and the progress of the students.

After the scheduled classes, the groups met in the high school auditorium where the P-TA ran through its business meeting and then threw open the floor to discussion. After a few questions were answered the special teachers, Beverly Hommel, Anne Adams, Sanford Knoller, Paul

Shokan

Shokan, Nov. 16—Mrs. Howard Richards and son, Paul, have returned to their home in Manhattan after having been at the family summer home in the village center since last June.

Ray Cudney who has been employed at the James Allen farm in the Spillway neighborhood for several years, is a vacationist at his home on the Ashokan mountain road.

The new telephone construction project currently underway to provide seven additional miles of cable in the reservoir country is quite in line with the continuing increase in population of the territory serviced by the Shokan automatic central station. The building boom in Olive is reminiscent of waterworks days when a large percentage of Ashokan Reservoir evacuees elected to settle within sight of their native hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert have gone to Miami where they have a winter home in the Biscayne Bay section.

Mrs. Theodore Carlson is now occupying her recently completed home on VanSteenburgh road.

Rudolph Juralek of Monticello has begun work on the foundations of a house for his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thord Fredenholm. The site, adjoining the Shokan post office building, is part of a farmland acreage purchased of Emily and Marvin Greene last month and is bounded by the Onteora Trail and the Ridge road on the south and west, respectively. Two small mountains of dirt and stone flank the excavation made by the Davis Brothers shovel in about a day and a half.

Report has it that a dozen or so Olive residents have signified their desire to become town welfare director, an office made vacant recently by the death of Fred Reimer. Olive Bridge man who had served in that capacity several years. The town board elect will be evenly divided between the two parties as is also the case now, a situation posing added interest in the appointment.

Health for All

Your Neighbor's Health

Your neighbor's health is your business. Each year at this time you make it your business by buying Christmas Seals of your tuberculosis association. In supporting efforts to fight tuberculosis throughout your community, you protect your own health and that of your family.

Of course, you do everything in your power to keep the members of your family in good general health. You try to see that they eat properly and get enough rest, fresh air, and exercise. That will help protect them against TB as well as against many other diseases. But it is not enough.

TB is a communicable disease by a germ which is passed on by people who have the disease. The germ doesn't care how old or how rich you are, where you live, or who your ancestors were. It can attack anyone. If TB attacked itself quickly with some kind of skin rash, you could avoid contact with it fairly well. But people can have TB in the early stages and look perfectly healthy. Often they do not even suspect that they are ill and are passing on germs to those around them.

For this reason, the control of tuberculosis requires the cooperation of all the people. You cannot build barriers around yourself alone which will prevent TB. You have to be concerned with your neighbor's health, with the health of everyone in your community.

Your tuberculosis association fights TB throughout the community. It is an organization devoted to protecting you and your neighbors from a disease which kills 30,000 Americans in one year. It works closely with local health authorities and other voluntary and official agencies in programs to teach people how to fight TB, to find the unknown cases of the disease, and to work for the day when the best techniques of modern medicine and rehabilitation are made available to all TB patients. The Christmas Seals you buy to support the association also pay for a national program of medical research to find ever better ways of treating and preventing TB.

This is the program aimed toward the eradication of tuberculosis. This is what you pay for when you buy Christmas Seals. This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by The Ulster County TB and Health Association, 74 John street.

Couple at Wedding Reception

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT G. RICKS

Miss Mae Fowler Becomes Bride Of Robert Ricks

Miss Mae Fowler, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Fowler of 61 Pine street and the late William G. Fowler, and Robert G. Ricks, son of Mrs. Helen Ricks of Veteran and the late Edward Ricks, were united in marriage Sunday, Nov. 8 at 2 p. m. at the Reformed Church in Rosendale.

The Rev. Albert H. Shultis, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Dorothy Schneider was organist. She accompanied the soloist, Miss Dayle Auchmoody, in the selections, Because O Promise Me, and The Lord's Prayer, and played traditional wedding music preceding the ceremony. The altar was decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums and fall leaves. Satin bows marked the pews.

The bride was given in marriage by Edmund Musialkiewicz, brother-in-law. She wore a gown of Skinner satin trimmed with Chantilly lace, fashioned with a Bertha effect bodice. The skirt was trimmed with imported French lace and terminated in a Cathedral train. She carried spider chrysanthemums on a Bible trimmed with satin ribbons, and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Agnes Steinmetz was matron of honor for her sister. Her gown was of frost pink, fashioned of Chantilly lace, seed pearl buttons, and a full net skirt over taffeta. Her tiara and bouquet were of midge chrysanthemums. Her matching mitts were of Chantilly lace.

Miss Claudia Musialkiewicz of Lincoln Park was flower girl for her aunt. Her gown was yellow French net over taffeta fashioned with a Victorian apron and a matching tiara. Her bouquet was of miniature and yellow chrysanthemums.

Arthur Ricks of Veteran was best man for his brother. The ushers were Gilbert Ricks, brother of the bridegroom, and Howard Steinmetz, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held for 135 guests at the Yacht Club. Music was furnished by Eddie Acker's trio.

The couple left for a trip through the southern states. For traveling, the bride wore a grey wool coat over black jersey trimmed in white with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, and was employed at Sprague Electric Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Saugerties High School and Clarkson Institute of Technology, Potsdam. He is a member of the honorary fraternities, Tau Beta Pi and Chi Epsilon. He served two years in the U. S. Navy. He is now employed as a civil engineer for a helicopter company in Morton, Pa.

The couple will make their future home at 8287th street, Prospect Park, Pa.

Woman, 99, Arrives

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—A 99-year-old Russian woman whose flight to freedom began 33 years ago arrived today to find sanctuary in the United States. As she got off a plane at Idlewild Airport, the woman, Mrs. Martha Podrezowa, repeatedly made the sign of the cross. Through an interpreter she later explained she was giving thanks for having realized finally a dream to live in this country.

Mrs. Podrezowa, widow of a czarist general, and her daughter, Mrs. Katharina Bokowa, 60, were on a plane load of immigrants under the auspices of the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

John Schoonmaker, Jr., class of 1924, has announced that there will be assembly at 6:30 p. m. with dinner following at 7 p. m. Mr. Schoonmaker of Island Dock, is president of the alumni club.

Waldo C. M. Johnston, executive secretary of the Yale Alumni Board, and Charles M. Weis, instructor in English at Yale University, will be speakers. They will deliver talks on current developments at Yale and the major problems facing the nation's institutions of higher learning.

Besides serving as full-time administrative officer for the alumni board, Mr. Johnston has also coached Yale's 150-lb crew, and is a member of the University Board of Admissions. He holds a commission as a Lt. Colonel in the Air Force Reserve.

Mr. Weis, a member of Yale's famed Elizabethan club, was appointed instructor in English in 1949.

No Water Pressure
Loss to Villages
Due to Hotel Fire

Saugerties, Nov. 16—Despite the large amount of water used in fighting the Schoentag's Hotel fire Friday night, there will be no loss of water pressure to the villages of Saugerties and Glasco.

Water Commissioner John G. M. Hilton made this statement today following rumors that the drain of water to fight the blaze would cause a state of emergency at the Blue Mountain Reservoir.

Commissioner Hilton pointed out that although the amount of water used to fight the fire was great, it did not cause any concern to village officials.

Meanwhile, firemen from the Glasco Fire Company were still wetting down the smoldering ruins at late as Sunday afternoon following the outbreak of the costly fire Friday night at the Saugerties road hotel.

Damage has now been estimated as running well over $75,000 and according to Charles Marabella, the owner, the building was only partially covered by insurance.

Minstrel Attracts

1,000 to 2 Shows

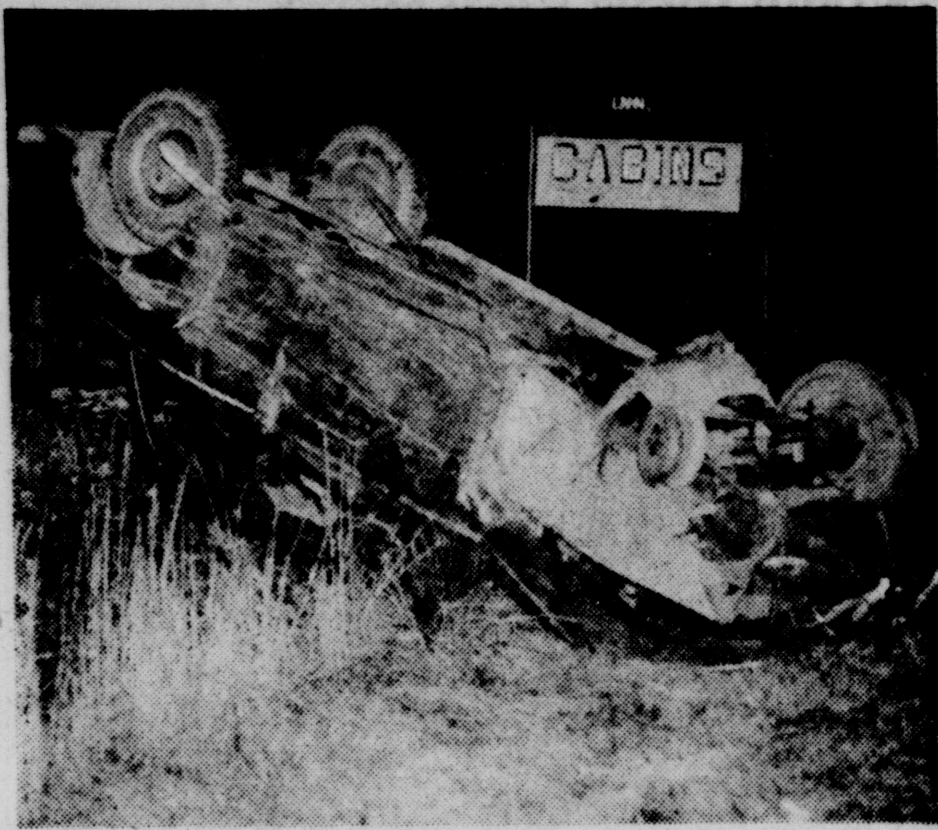

Saugerties, Nov. 16—More than 1,000 patrons saw the two performances of the Saugerties Drum Corp minstrel which was rated by local critics as one of the best ever shown in the village. The final performance got under way at 8:15 p. m. Friday. The show, which ran for two nights at municipal auditorium, was under the direction of John J. Keeley Sr. Those who scored with outstanding performances were Howard Hawthorne of Leeds who came back for many encores. Casper Miller and Joseph Cusick both local performers proved popular with the huge audience. Charles Gilmore and John A. Burns, Jr., the premier end men added comedy with their lively banter. The Varsity Four which included Charles Kelly, Donald Fellows, Edward Terpening, and Al Craz, also made an exceptionally good presentation. Saugerties High School Sextette which included Marilyn Winnie, Mary Ann Myer, Marilyn Craft, Betsy Haussler, Nancy Stafford, and Jean Jackson were pleasing to the ears as well as to the eyes. Chairman Ed Van Wart directed stage decorations which followed the minstrel theme. Lighting effects were handled by Carl Mehlig and make-up artist was Russell O'Dea. The ticket committee was headed by Clarence Lynk. Casper Miller and Al Westergard were in charge of the program committee. Willett Overbaugh, who also acted as interactor, was the general chairman. The all-girl chorus which added a back-drop to the stage consisted of Peggy Amend, Susan Bach, Cora Carney, Rose Marie Carle, Beverly Frelich, Jacqueline Gilmore, Sarah Krom, Patricia Lane, Judy Lewis, June Overbaugh, Deanna Paradee, Eleanor Peters, Joyce Peters, Susan Peters, Carol Rawlings, Ruth Reynolds, Judy Whitaker, and Betty Wright. The members of the committee are contemplating running the show again in some of the other hamlets in the town under the sponsorship of interested organizations wishing to raise money.

Seniors Schedule Two Plays Friday Night

Two Are Hurt in Accident

Two persons were injured, apparently not seriously, in a two-car collision on the Onteora Trail near the Maverick road intersection about 7:15 p. m. Saturday, state police reported. Robert Usher of Olive Bridge, passenger in an automobile driven by Oliver Crawford, 42, also of Olive Bridge, received a nose fracture, and Richard Antonick, 18, of Ramsey, N. J., was hospitalized for possible concussion but has since been discharged, state police said. Antonick was driving his automobile in a westerly direction when it was in collision with the Crawford car, approaching in the opposite direction, troopers said. No arrest was made. (Anner Photo) day, Nov. 20, at 8 p. m., in the Saugerties High School auditorium. The senior class has chosen two comedies for presentation. Quiet Please the first play will have in its cast John Le Houd, Richard Fusaro, Mary Eckhoff, Marilyn Winnie, James Fannan, Marlene Yarvin and Jeanette Zeilman. Mind Over Mumps the second play will include in its cast Shirley Mauro, Mary Ann Myer, Larry Cahill, Andris Neimanis, Rose Riozzi and Janet Misasi. The plays were coached by Mrs. Lynette Flewelling and William Ross.

Additional entertainment will be presented by LeRoy Brink who will play two clarinet solos. Between shows Warren Kellerhouse, Marilyn Craft and the Girls Sextette which includes Marilyn Winnie, Nancy Stafford, Betsy Haussler, Mary Ann Myer, Jean Jackson, and also Marilyn Craft will entertain with musical selections.

USWV and Auxiliary Hold Recent Meeting

Saugerties, Nov. 16—The Lt. Charles A. Vroman Camp 129, United Spanish War Veterans, and Vroman-Saulpaugh Auxiliary 92, which includes members in the Catskill-Saugerties area, held their regular meeting Thursday at the VFW Hall in Catskill. The two organizations held a combined supper-meeting session. The hostess for the supper was Mrs. Henrietta Wilk, senior vice president, of the auxiliary. After the supper the two organizations went into separate meeting rooms to conduct their individual meetings. At this meeting H. E. Felter, past commander of Richard Dowling Camp, 35 of Pittsfield, Mass., was transferred and accepted as a member of Vroman Camp No.

Town Notes

Saugerties, Nov. 16—Warren Knaust of Topsy returned to his home Friday where he is recovering from an operation performed at Albany Hospital.

Walter Olkowski of Malden, a member of the U. S. Naval Forces, is reported doing nicely after an operation at St. Albans Naval Hospital. Walter Olkowski is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olkowski of Malden.

Mrs. Ruth Lasher and Mrs. Wilbur of Mt. Tremper were guests for lunch at the home of Mrs. Anna Winchell of Malden. A surprise birthday party was tendered to Clifford Van Etten Saturday night at his residence on Warren Place. The party program featured dancing and vocal renditions. Invited guests included Marion and Richard Smith, Betty and Harold Hendrickson, Kate and Dean Van Etten, Iola and Frank Sloboda, Dolly and Henry Murphy, Ruth and Albert Cawein, Evelyn Oliver and Floyd Mignano and the hostess Marjory Van Etten.

Valmare Carpenter of West Camp was appointed ticket chairman for the Marine Corp League annual ball which will be scheduled for the first or second week in January. Val Carpenter was recently elected to the office of vice commandant at a meeting of the league in October.

Robert Lewis of Evesport was the first to report in an opening day of deer season. He bagged a handsome eight-point buck. Linley Paynter and brother Fred Paynter of Valley Stream, L. I., visited Mr. and Mrs. John J. Helfert of Malden-on-Hudson. Mr. Helfert who has been recuperating from a recent illness has returned to his work in Bloomfield, N. J.

The Saugerties Home Bureau will meet Thursday, Nov. 19 at the VFW Hall on Livingston street at 1 p. m. for the project of basket weaving. Mrs. John Althiser will be in charge of the program.

Katherine Sloboda of Evesport was surprised with a birthday party at the Ferroxcube Corp. Saugerties plant. Co-workers in the office presented her with a birthday cake. They included Georgine Drewes, Louise Waite, Olga Scholetsky, Agnes Zeigler, Irene Mills, Audrey Van Kleeck, Loretta La Rocca, and Ruth Cawein.

Maroon Seeks Revenge In Thanksgiving Game

NFA to Feel Wrath Of Once-Beaten KHS

With the DUSO League championship already consigned to Poughkeepsie, the Kingston High school Maroons settled down to serious work today for the mission of revenge scheduled Thanksgiving afternoon at municipal stadium.

Three of the Kingston players suffered minor injuries in the Poughkeepsie bit and the trio is expected to be fit and ready for the climactic clash with Newburgh Academy.

Bill Engle incurred an ankle injury that slowed him up perceptibly. Fred Jackson also hurt his ankle and Ray Gallo emerged with a split left toe.

Gallo appeared to be the least injured of the three when the game ended and it wasn't until he removed his cleats in the locker room that the full extent of the hurt was noticeable.

Burke Praises Blues
Coach Bill Burke had high praise for Sam Kalloch's Blues and rated the Blues "a really great team."

"I watched them four times," he said "and they were at their absolute peak Saturday. We lost to a better team but if we had gotten a break early in the first quarter things might have been different."

Burke referred to a near pass interception by Ray Gallo as one of the vital plays of the game.

With Kingston leading 7-0, Poughkeepsie tried a pass from deep in its own territory and Gallo apparently had it intercepted until 6 foot 3 Roger Stickle's snatched it out of his hands.

"Had Gallo made the interception, we might have scored another touchdown and created a psychological upheaval among the Blues," added Burke. "As a matter of fact they seemed to be fighting among themselves when we scored the first TD."

Burke's evaluation of Gallo's near-interception was backed by experienced observers at the game. With Kingston ahead by two touchdowns the entire complexion of the game might have been changed.

Players Eager
The master of Burke Hill will not have too much trouble keeping the Maroons "up" for the traditional clash with the Goldbacks.

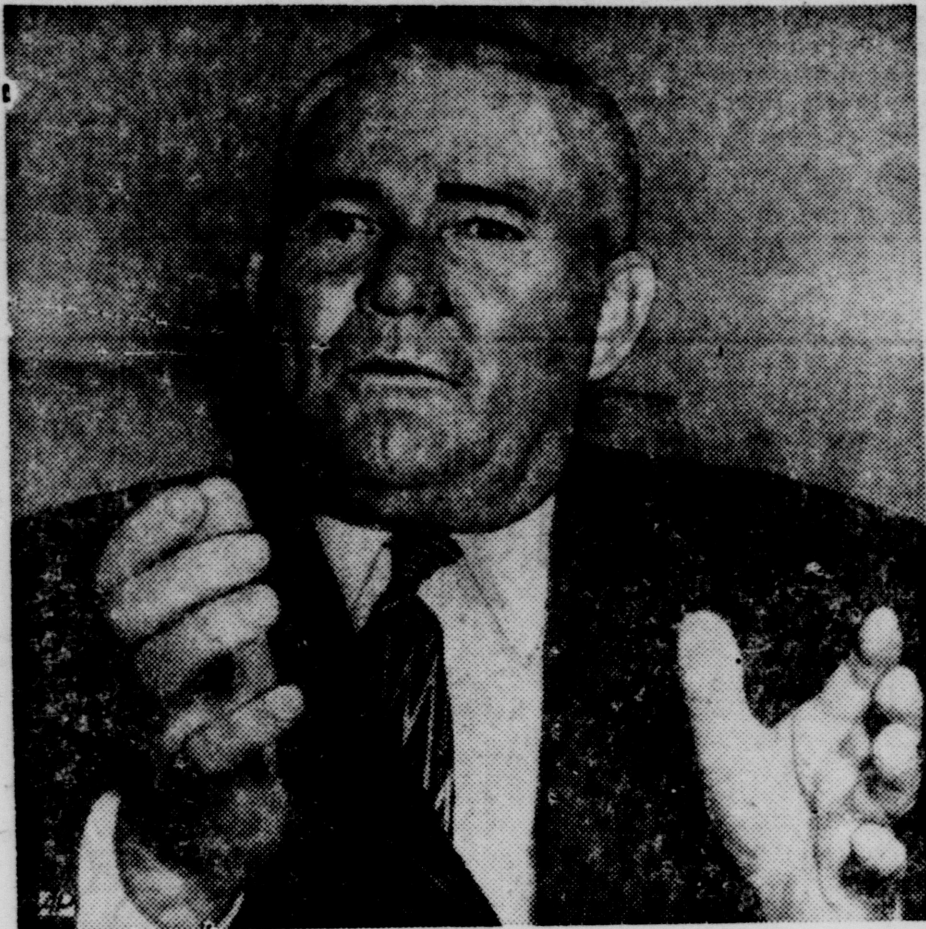

"We've been pointing for this game since our first day of practice," one of the varsity players said recently. "We want to win this game as much as any we have played and we're going to be ready."

The once glittering Goldbacks, shorn of their great stars, have had to start from the bottom of the heap this year. They lost to Poughkeepsie and Middletown and tied Port Jervis. Their record is mediocre and they will be fired up to win this one. A victory over Kingston would make the NFA season a success. Everything else before it will have been forgotten.

But Kingston hasn't forgotten the debacles of the past couple years and aim to do something about it on Thanksgiving Day.

Boston—Sauveur Chioche, 140½, France, outpointed Charley Slaughter, 134½, Westfield, N. J., 10.

Hornsby Quits Baseball for TV

Rogers Hornsby announces at a Washington news conference he is quitting professional baseball to make television films aimed to teach the fundamentals of baseball to the kids of the nation. Hornsby, 37, who was recently released as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was one of the great hitters of all time and has managed a long string of major and minor league clubs since his playing days.

Hornsby Quits Baseball for TV

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby embarked today on a new baseball career: Teaching the fundamentals of the game by commercially sponsored television.

"It's something I've always wanted to do," Hornsby said. "I want to help build the youth of America and teach them the fundamentals of the greatest game in the world."

Hornsby, one of baseball's greatest hitters, said he is giving up professional baseball for good, after 40 years as a player or manager.

The first of a series of 15-minute television shows is being filmed this afternoon. Bob Wolff, Washington sports announcer, and Jim Busby, Washington Senators' outfielder, will join Hornsby. Other major leaguers will appear on later shows.

Trailsweepers Club Holds Open House

Members of the Trail Sweepers launched the 1953-54 season with an open house attended by more than 60 persons Thursday night at Lawton Park.

Outstanding Eastern ski personalities present included Cornie

Miller, president of the Belleayre Ski Club; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Davenport, proprietors of Highmount Ski Center; and Bern Blikstad, Eastern jumping champion.

Walley Keller, section chief at Belleayre, showed color slides and movies of his ski trip to Alta, Utah and Daniel Morehouse showed two films about skiing in Vermont and Europe.

Club officials announced that a film devoted to skiing in the Catskills would be released in the near future. It covers the entire Catskill area and should be of interest to all citizens in the area.

Bezemer, Waterous Top Cagers
New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Iron Dukes of Duquesne figure to outclass the rest of the east in basketball this season and may well be in the running for the title of the nation's No. 1 quintet.

Whether the Pittsburgh five is better than defending champion Indiana, returning Kentucky or improving Kansas won't be decided for a couple of months yet. But on paper no one can match the Dukes in height, experience, speed, ball handling, defensive strength and reserves.

Basketball observers are convinced Duquesne can't miss winning the mythical Eastern title. Even Duder Moore, modest Duquesne coach, admits the advanced outlook is the best he has ever enjoyed. Duquesne lost only three men from the roster good enough last season to rank ninth nationally on a 21-8 record. Six of Dukes' defeats came early in the season while Jim Tucker, an All-America candidate, was ineligible.

Tucker Returns
The 1954 squad again will be built around Tucker, Dick Ricketts and Fletcher Johnson. Tucker is 6-8, Ricketts 6-7 and Johnson 6-5. Duquesne's only weakness last year—lack of back court strength and outside shooting—has been remedied by a collection of a fine array of sophomores. Best of these is Shugo Green, who figures to win a regular berth without too much trouble. A 6-3 forward from Brooklyn, Green is fast, smart, a good driver and a deadly shot from the outside. Mickey Winograd, another sophomore, will probably round out the starting five. Marty Schwemmer, Sid Dambrot, Don McLane and Jim Corkan make up a strong bench.

After Duquesne in the east comes LaSalle of Philadelphia and Niagara of Buffalo. LaSalle, four-time champions of Philadelphia-and-suburbs, have lost two regulars via graduation but still possess Tom Gola, rated by many as the best basketball player in college today. The 6-6 junior scored 517 points last year to earn place on the Associated Press All-America team.

Other starters are Jackie Moore, Bill Katheder, Frank O'Hara and Joe Gilson. It's strong points are ball handling, set shooting and a tricky cross-screen offense.

Onteora Central Cagers Open Seventeen-Game Card Tonight

Play Tri-Valley In Road Opener

Onteora Central School launches its 1953-54 basketball schedule Tuesday at Tri-Valley and plays its home opener on Friday with Cairo.

Coach Ed Witko's squad have five lettermen returning including Louis Bolter, Al Parsons, Les Foster, Marty Rotella and Marty Warnes. The remainder of the team will be made up of last year's Jayvee stars, among them Carl and Conrad Bremer, Ollie Crawford, Bob Krein and Ronnie Locke, a transfer from Kingston High.

The 17-game schedule winds up on March 7. Among the new opponents are St. Mary's of Hudson, New Paltz, Highland and Margaretville. The Columbia county school is a traditional Class B powerhouse.

A home and home series also is scheduled with Highland High. The schedule:

March 5—Fleischmanns, away.
All home games are scheduled at 7:30 p. m., unless otherwise

Defense Upswing In Pro Basketball

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Professional basketball has gone on the defensive this season.

National Basketball Association statistics released today show the nine club league has averaged 75 points a game for each team in the first 35 games this year. At the same point a year ago the league was averaging 83.5 points a game.

The New York Knickerbockers, who own the best won and lost record, pace the loop in average scoring at 79.5 and in field goal accuracy, 35.2 per cent.

Syracuse has put up the best defense, 70.6, followed by the Knicks at 71.8.

George Mikan of Minneapolis is the top scorer with 179 in 10 games but Neil Johnston of Philadelphia has the best average, 19.5 in eight contests.

Independent Promoters Saved, Talent Found by Arcel's TV Boxing Road Show

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Ramell Arcel had his head cracked open doing it, but the long-time trainer succeeded in putting the breath of life back in boxing just when it was about ready to fall over seriously dead.

The cowardly attack on Ray Arcel in Boston made it plain that somebody violently objected to his putting televised boxing on the road.

But Arcel, who has been in the beak busting business for 39 of his 54 years, has saved the independent promoter who is the life blood of the sport.

In doing so, the Saturday Night Fights, as they are called, have uncovered the best new talent. Included here are the welterweights, Carmine Basilio of Syracuse, Boston's Wilbur Wilson and Chicago's Alan Moody. Charley Goulard, Boston middleweight is another hot prospect.

Albany 13th Stop

When Arcel moved into the Mid-City Arena of Albany Saturday night with Syracuse's Pat and Gerald Dreyer, the British Empire welter champion, it marked the 13th city his program has visited in 43 shows since it was launched at the Boston Garden, Jan. 24, of this year.

Arcel worked with Promoter Ted Bayly in Albany, the man who brings periodic wrestling to Kingston. In Miami after the first of the year, it will be Jimmy White, Lou Messina in dear old New Orleans, Ralph Smith in Houston and Max Yeagrain in Kansas City and Topeka and so on down the line.

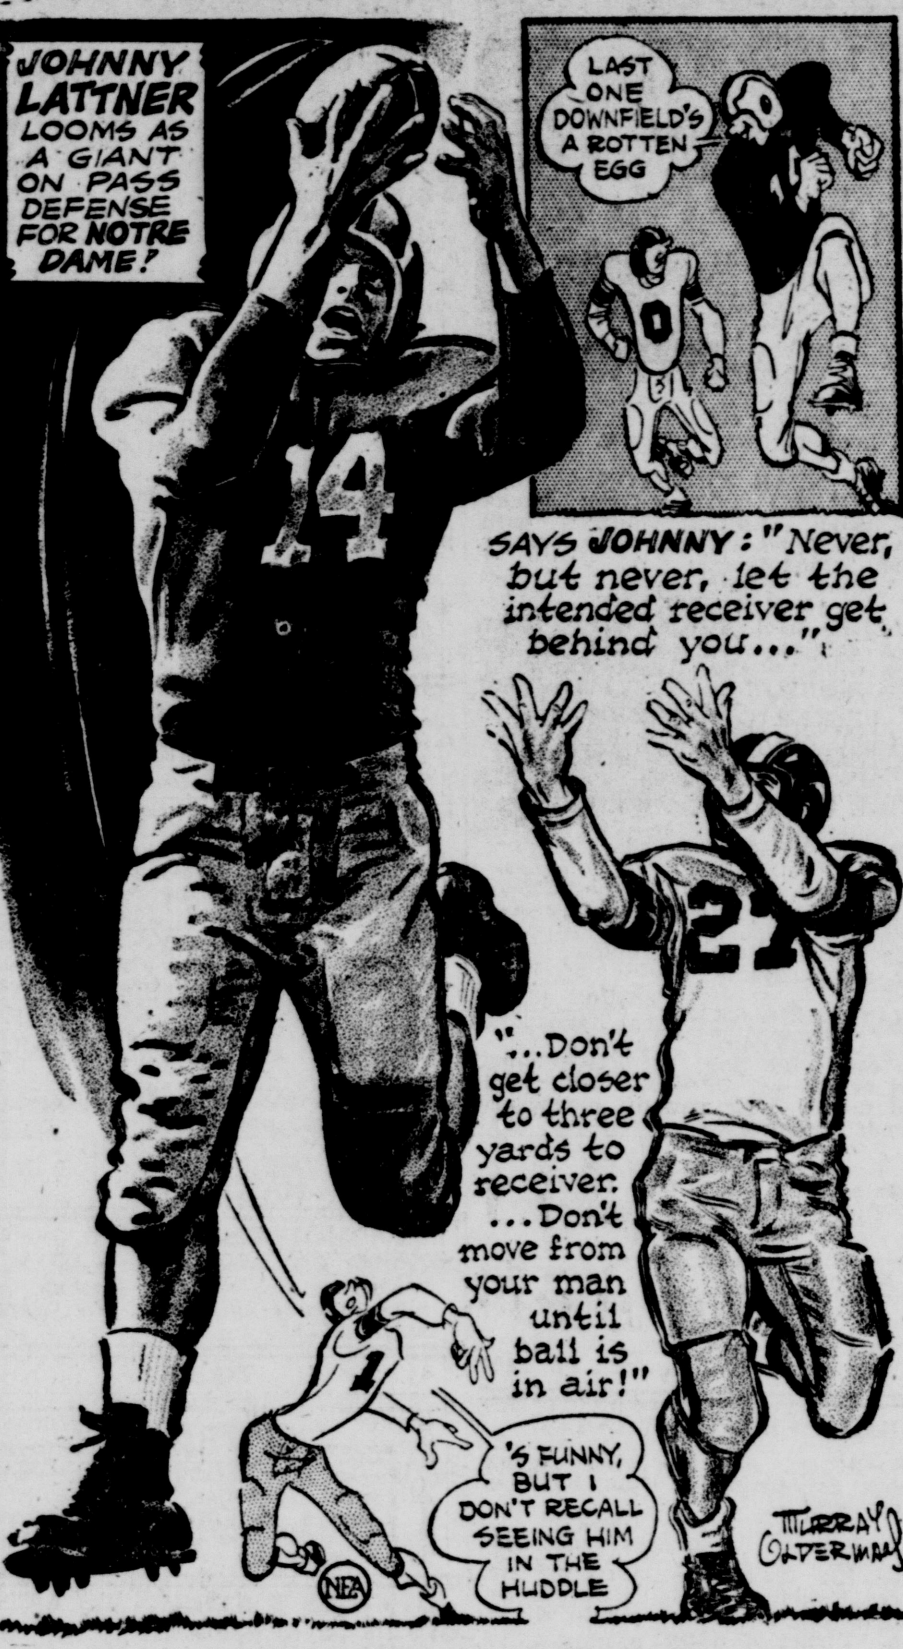

So, you see there is vastly more to professional boxing now than the One Big Unhappy Monopoly. The Ray Arcel Enterprises, which started with a telephone booth as an office, could well use the larger arenas, but it has done mighty well in the smaller ones.

Arcel is the first to prove that boxing can live with television provided the site of the match is blacked out.

Arcel not only gives the local promoter an occasional video shot, but encourages and helps him put on non-TV-D productions.

Irving Schoenwald plans new talent shows in Chicago and Milwaukee. Arcel encourages promoters to open gymnasiums, which Sid Flaherty has done in San Jose and Butte. There is new material in practically every city Arcel has visited.

With his grass roots action, Ray Arcel could easily become boxing's No. 1 man.

1954 Golf Rules Clarified On Hazards, Score Checks

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The United States Golf Association and the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, the world's principal ruling bodies of golf, have agreed on a number of minor revisions of the rules of golf, to become effective Jan. 1, 1954.

They also have agreed that there will be no further changes in the rules until representatives of the two bodies have had personal conferences. These likely will take place when the U. S. Walker Cup team visits Britain in the spring of 1955.

The USGA and the R. and A. established a uniform code of rules two years ago after a series of conferences. The revisions, the result of continuing correspondence were made to simplify and clarify the rules and maintain uniformity of interpretation. The principal changes concern hazards and checking scores in stroke play—the latter designed to help eliminate the occasional mixups that occur when a player signs a card on which a mistake has been made.

The change makes it obligatory for the player to "ensure that the marker has signed the card." The rule now calls for the marker to sign the card and hand it to the competitor and for the competitor to check his score, sign it and turn it in. But the competitor, who is solely responsible for the correctness of the score, has not been required to accept the responsibility for the failure of the marker to sign.

Clarify 'Lift' Rule

In regard to hazards, henceforth a ball may not be lifted for identification in a hazard although if a ball is covered by sand, fallen leaves, etc., the player may remove enough to enable him to see the top of the ball. But if he plays the wrong ball from a hazard, there is no penalty.

A clause added to Rule 22—dropping and placing the ball—provides that "a ball lifted in a hazard must be dropped and come to rest in that hazard unless otherwise provided for in the rules."

The definition of a lateral water hazard also has been clarified and simplified. Other principal amendments provide that strokes played with a wrong ball do not count in the player's score; that combining stroke play and match play is prohibited (instead of saying it "should not be permitted"); and that practice on a course before starting play is definitely prohibited on the day that play begins.

In all, 13 rules and seven definitions are affected by the changes.

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Roll out the red carpet and let the mighty Blues of Poughkeepsie High trod thereon.

Undeclared in six games, DUSO champions for the fourth time (with a 20-year "walk" in between), Coach Sam Kalloch's 1953 football warriors rate a niche in the DUSO's Hall of Fame.

A gallant Kingston High School eleven stunned the Blues in the early moments of the big game Saturday but couldn't follow up with the knockout drops.

Once the Poughkeepsie monsters warmed to their job, the difference between the teams was obvious. They are freakishly big and tall for a high school squad, and of those rare combinations that come along every couple decades.

Coach Bill Burke's Maroons deserve credit for their stubborn stand. They could have disintegrated and collapsed under a lopsided score but they made Poughkeepsie struggle for every point and kept the final tally within the realm of respectability.

● Kalloch's Supreme Moment:

The spontaneous celebration that followed the game was high tribute to Coach Samuel J. Kalloch, who planned the victory in detail. Poughkeepsie rocked with the good news Saturday night. It was a long time between drinks for the Queen City and it quaffed vigorously from the cup of victory.

An incident that occurred shortly after Kingston's TD appeared symbolic of the struggle unfolding on the gridiron. The dazzling Charlie Johnson returned the ensuing kickoff 18 yards to the Poughkeepsie 28. Instead of calling a running sequence, Quarterback Ronnie Bub tried a surprise pass play.

Here the height element came into the picture and snatched Poughkeepsie from early disaster. Ray Gallo, the Kingston left guard, actually had intercepted the ball but just as it was about to settle in his arms along came Tony Stokles, the 6 foot 3 inch Blue end and snatched it away from him.

That was a big play at the moment. Kingston was hot and had just moved 51 yards for a TD. If Gallo had made the interception, Kingston would have been pounding toward the Poughkeepsie goal line another Maroon TD and the entire complexion of the contest would have been changed.

But then, having lost a touchdown when Gary Mendez dropped a pass in the end zone, the Blues took charge for the remainder of the day.

● The Black Phantom:

Eight of Saturday's starters played their last game for the Blues. But Charlie Johnson (Poughkeepsie version) will be back for two more years and it is impossible to completely evaluate the young man's potentialities. He is now, in his sophomore, one of the finest running backs in DUSO history. That takes in a lot of territory, but after watching him for four quarters against a good Kingston team the rating is justified. If Master Johnson keeps his marks up and escapes physical injury he could leave Poughkeepsie High as the greatest player ever developed by Coach Kalloch. He blocks well, defends stoutly. In other words, he's a full ball player.

There was another standout on that field. Chunky Gene Massa earned All-DUSO halfback honors with his terrific performance. He was a gallant figure in a crumbling dynasty. He bulled through the Poughkeepsie packyders for extra yardage, tackled like a demon and punted superbly. Even Poughkeepsie's musty rabid rooters recognized Gene as a topnotch football player.

The Poughkeepsie rooters were so intoxicated they hoisted the corpulent Kalloch to their shoulders and carried him the several hundred yards to the dressing room. Only a triumph of such noble proportions could inspire the amateur weight lifter to that tedious and ponderous journey.

Beaten, but with spirit undimmed, Gene Massa and company still are confronted with a few unfinished chores—like the Thanksgiving Day rendezvous with revenge against Newburgh Academy at municipal stadium.

Let not the Maroons forget a year ago when they had their faces pushed and bodies trampled on the Hill City gridiron. If they remember this, and we suspect they will, NFA could be in for a rough day.

Notre Dame Maryland Top Teams

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—Notre Dame and Maryland, only major elvans to escape the season's plague of "upsetitis," stood almost unchallenged today as the Nos. 1 and 2 teams of college football.

Notre Dame, pre-season favorite for national honors, held its position at the head of the Associated Press rankings for the eighth straight week but felt new pressure from its constant pursuer, Maryland.

Meanwhile, three teams which were victims of surprise reversals—Georgia Tech, West Virginia and Baylor—fell from the top ten and gave way to newcomers Wisconsin, Southern California and Rice.

Notre Dame's Irish, who conquered North Carolina 34-14 for their seventh straight victory, had 93 first place votes to 42 for undefeated Maryland, which smashed Mississippi 38-0. With ten points for a No. 1 vote, nine for No. 2, etc., Notre Dame had 1,404 points to Maryland's 1,344.

Spartans Third

A total of 151 sports writers and broadcasters participated this week and elevated Michigan State, the 1952 National champion, to third place, supplanting Illinois, downed by Wisconsin 34-7.

George Tech, beaten by Alabama 13-7, slipped from fifth to 12th and West Virginia, its 13-game winning streak snapped by Southern Carolina, plummeted from eighth to 19th. Baylor, upset by Houston 37-7, dropped completely out of the picture from ninth place.

The top 10 (first place votes and team records in parentheses):

1. Notre Dame (93) (7-0) 1,404
2. Maryland (42) (9-0) 1,344
3. Mich. State (3) (7-1) 1,091
4. Oklahoma (3) (6-1) 920
5. UCLA (7-1) 806
6. Texas (6-3) 348
7. Illinois (6-1-1) 311
8. Wisconsin (2) (6-2) 290
9. S. California (6-1-1) 201
10. Rice (6-2) 185

Harness Writers Urge Discipline On Del Miller

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—The U. S. Harness Writers Association today announced a resolution urging disciplinary action by the U. S. Trotting Association against Del Miller, a leading harness driver and trainer, for an alleged attack upon a harness writer.

The writers said Miller "did commit an unwarranted physical attack upon the person of Jack Schultz, a member of the U. S. Harness Writers Association" in the lobby of a hotel at Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 12.

The resolution said such action "calls for prompt and disciplinary action" by the Trotting Association and requested the USTA to do so at once.

Schultz is a member of the staff of Newsday at Garden City, N. Y. He was elected vice president of the Harness Writers at their annual meeting here yesterday.

Miller won the 1950 Hambletonian with Lusty Song. His home is at Meadow Land, Pa. He was not immediately available for comment.

The text of the resolution was telegraphed to USTA headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

Dulles Gives His Views on Prisoners

Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today that all anti-Communist prisoners of war held by the Neutral Nations' Repatriation Commission in Korea should be given their freedom and civilian status on Jan. 22.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru had recently suggested that the question of release of the POWs should be considered anew by both sides in the Korean controversy if the proposed political conference did not take place.

Dulles made clear in a news conference statement that the United States rejects this Nehru suggestion and feels that provisions of the Korean armistice agreement covering POWs must be carried out to the letter.

He said these provisions state that 120 days after the prisoners were turned over to the repatriation commission (for explanations by Reds trying to persuade them to go home) they must be given their freedom and civilian status. He said the date for doing this will be Jan. 22.

It is estimated that more than 40 billion gallons of gasoline were consumed in the United States in 1952.

Associated Press Arts Reporter W. G. Rogers called Miss De Los Angeles' performance "one of the most rewarding" of the evening, and described Rossi-Lemen's voice as a bass "without too much bite, as sweet as it was rough, with as much purr as burr."

Of Bjorling's Faust, Rogers commented: "He had the audience with him early and won it completely with his 'Salute! De-meur Chaste et Pure!'"

"Good voices need good conducting, and they had it in generous measure," Rogers' review of the opera added.

"Pierre Montoux, who made his Met debut in 1917 with the same opera, wielded the baton. Musically, this was one of the finest productions the man has given us."

Truman Says . . .

the vitals of America and it can destroy the great edifice of freedom."

Says It Was Best As to the action he took in the White case, he said, it was the best for the nation.

He said he wanted the "American people to understand that the course we took protected the public interest and security and, at the same time, permitted the intensive FBI investigation then in progress to go forward. No other course could have served both purposes."

In describing the White case, Truman said a lengthy FBI report on "certain accusations of espionage," reached the White House in December, 1945.

"Among the many names mentioned, I now find, was that of Harry Dexter White, who had been in the Treasury department for many years and who was at that time an assistant secretary of the treasury," he said.

He added that as best he can determine an FBI report "specifically discussing activities of Harry Dexter White was brought to my attention" early in February, 1946. He said it was delivered to him by Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan, his military aide, and also "brought to my personal attention by Secretary of State Byrnes."

Truman said he sent a copy of the report to White's immediate superior, the late Fred Vinson, then secretary of the treasury. He said he also discussed the matter with Vinson as well as Byrnes.

But that discussion, he declared, was not until after the Senate had confirmed White as the U. S. member on the board of directors of the International Monetary Fund.

Says Consultation Held "Secretary of the Treasury Vinson consulted with Attorney General Tom Clark and other government officials," Truman related.

"When the results of these consultations were reported to me, the conclusion was reached that the appointment should be allowed to take its normal course. The final responsibility for this decision, of course, was mine. The reason for the decision was that the charges which had been made to the FBI against Mr. White also involved many other persons. . . . It was of great importance to the nation that this investigation be continued in order to prove or disprove these charges and to determine if still other persons were implicated."

He said an unusual action in connection with the White appointment "might well have alerted all the persons involved to the fact that the investigation was under way and thus endanger the success of the investigation."

Truman mentioned that White resigned in April, 1947, "referring to reasons of health" and added: "Although my recent off-hand comment concerning his resignation was in error the fact is that he was separated from government service promptly when the necessary for secrecy concerning the intensive investigation of the FBI came to an end."

Lashes at Brownell Lashing out at Brownell, he said the attorney general "had degraded the highest function of government—the administration of justice—into cheap political trickery. He made the Justice Department headquarters for political skulduggery. The attorney general of the United States has not only degraded his office, he has deceived his chief as to what he proposed to do, and in saying 'Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him' lied to the American people."

"In backing away again from this charge with the mealy-mouthed that he had no intention of impugning the loyalty of any high official of the prior administration, he lied to the American people again."

At one point in his speech, Truman said the "wild imputations of disloyalty which Mr. Brownell has made" were directed not only at him but against Vinson.

"No man I ever knew was a more patriotic American," Truman said, adding that "I deeply resent these cowardly insinuations against one who is dead."

And Then There Were Three

Three little kittens, acting like moles, take turns coming out until they fill all the holes. The venturesome pussies, hiding under an old building near the home of Roscoe LeGresley in Kootsida, Idaho, responded one by one to the coaxing of the LeGresley children. Papa was on hand with a camera to record the three-stage coming-out party.

United Nations, Nov. 17 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky has been ill for the past few days. Aides said he was feeling better today and was keeping in close touch with UN developments by telephone from his quarters in the Soviet delegation building on Park avenue.

Vote Is Postponed United Nations, Nov. 17 (AP)—The UN's 60-nation political committee today postponed a vote on U. S.-backed disarmament proposals for 24 hours. It was the second delay in reaching a decision on the plan which includes a suggestion for big power arms talks.

Delegate Declares Parties Are Good And Ease Tensions

New York, Nov. 17 (AP)—A woman delegate to the United Nations says that, for from being frivolous, the cocktail parties, buffet suppers and informal dinners attended by UN people help to ease diplomatic tensions.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio defended the socials yesterday at a tea given in her honor at the Union Theological Seminary.

She said she once received a letter from a prominent Cleveland woman, whom she did not identify, asking how Mrs. Bolton could go "tripping lightly off to cocktail parties" when Americans were dying and being tortured in Korea.

"We do not cross the street nor slip down a convenient corridor to avoid speaking to each other, as early delegates of the League of Nations did all those long years ago in Geneva," Mrs. Bolton said.

"We at the United Nations are fortunate that men have learned nothing is gained by avoidance but rather that personal contact must precede all possibilities of eventual understanding."

She said "our so-called civilized parties," where most of us stand about on weary feet talking first to one and then to another, seem to be the one method we have of making the acquaintance of people who have come together from the four corners of the world "to lay foundations for peace."

be $55.58, he said. The city would pay about $10,000 of the total cost and the owners about $32,000. This, he held, is not "economically sound" due to the "nature and lack of adaptability of the land."

The excessive cost of the project, he said, begins at about 200 feet east of Andrew street, but he thought it feasible to go from Andrew street to the point 200 feet eastward at a cost of $7,115, of which the city would pay $1,779 and the owners $5,336 or a rate of $13.62 per foot front. He suggested that a deed be accepted for that distance with the filing of a performance bond guaranteeing that utilities will be installed when the section eastward develops.

As Private Project The only other feasible plan, he indicated, would be to do the work as a private project.

It was indicated that to extend the street through to Ohio street would require about 300 feet of development.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, as the board's president, said he doubted that any estimates on private bid would be substantially under the city engineer's figures, but he and Commissioners Kenneth E. Hyatt and Raymond Whitebeck went along on the proposal to try for a bid based on Hallinan's estimates. Hallinan said he could have the estimates ready in about a week.

Attorney Sherwood E. Davis appeared in behalf of petitioners.

A street light change including an upward mast arm was approved for a pole on Field Court at no cost to the city and another on a pole at Lincoln and Farrelly streets.

Payment Authorized The board authorized the payment of $905.80 still due to V. J. Costanzi Inc. for sewer work on Broadway, Staples, Levan and Andrew streets.

A resolution by Alderman Robert Cullum asking for the repair of Johnston, Lafayette and Grandview avenues, and another requesting a street sign at Wilkie avenue and Pearl street, were referred to Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent. Another asking for a light at Main street and Sharon Lane, was referred to Whitebeck of the light committee.

Nine Persons Hurt In Ohio Violence

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 17 (AP)—Nine persons reportedly suffered minor injuries this morning in a series of violent incidents in the vicinity of the huge strike-bound North American Aviation, Inc., plant here.

Eight city and county police cars were sent to the scene before order was restored.

The Columbus Dispatch said 20 to 50 strikers massed at several plant gates and stoned some cars. Police refused to estimate the number of persons at the plant gates.

The trouble came only a couple of hours before the union, the CIO-United Auto Workers, Local 927, was to appear in Franklin County Common Pleas Court to show cause why it should not be cited for contempt for violation of a picket-limiting order issued Oct. 23, the day the strike started over the issue of wages. The order limited pickets at four main entrances and two smaller entrances.

The dispatch quoted James L. Krupp of Columbus, whom it identified as a striker, as declaring the massing of strength in the plant's main gates was done "without the knowledge of union headquarters. It was our own idea. We deliberately stayed away from union headquarters. If they keep going into the plant, we're going to lose this strike."

The company in recent days has reported progressive success of a back-to-work movement among unionists, who originally numbered about 12,500. The union has called company claims "fantastic."

Moreland Group

Other questionnaires already have been returned by the eight operating associations.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey appointed the three-man Moreland Ad Commission after the old non-paid Harness Racing Commission reported itself unable to handle the scandal ridden harness racing situation.

Reference Matter Here is how the latest questionnaire refers to the subject of possible payments by track owners to officials:

"Exclusive of money paid by lessor pursuant to express provision of statute, list every contribution or payment or tender of money, or delivery or tender of property, by or on behalf of lessor, from the time of its incorporation to date, to any person in any legislative body, or holding judicial office, or holding office in any board, bureau, department or other division or agency of the United States, or in any state, city, county, village, town or other political subdivision of the United States, giving in each instance the name and address of such person, the amount of money paid or tendered, and a complete description of the property paid or tendered, the date and detailed description of the transaction in relation to which said money was paid or tendered or such property was delivered or tendered, and the consideration received by the lessor therefor."

The questionnaires were ordered to be filled out and in the hands of the Moreland Commission by Nov. 30.

Lyons Is Appointed Washington, Nov. 17 (AP)—Eugene James Lyons of Rahway, N. J., was appointed by President Eisenhower today as Assistant Postmaster General in charge of personnel.

Bill Is Promised

Albany, Nov. 17 (AP)—Assemblyman J. Eugene Goddard, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on the Election Law, promises to have ready within a month a bill to establish permanent personal registration in the state, probably on a local option basis. Goddard told newsmen of the committee's plans after a public hearing yesterday. The only outright opposition to the entire proposal came from the AFL International Typographical Union. A Democratic state committeewoman and a Liberal party representative voiced objections to the local option provision. Among supporters of the plan were spokesmen for the Empire State Chamber of Commerce and the League of Women Voters.

Since 1900, the United States has produced about 129 million motor vehicles.

All Departments In YMCA Report Maximum Activity

The YMCA Boys Department had a big attendance Saturday morning. Teams were organized and boys placed in respective groups. Gym and swimming classes closed early because many of the older boys wanted to attend the Kingston-Poughkeepsie High School football game.

Boys who were absent last week and want to be in this special Y activity should report this week and be placed on a team, Secretary Lou Schafer said.

A special program is being arranged for all boys for the Saturday following Thanksgiving. Physical Director George McElroy is initiating this Thanksgiving Day program and he guarantees it fun for all.

Swim Classes Popular
The swim classes at the Y are very popular. The swims on Tuesday afternoons and Saturday mornings keep the pool busy for all three class groups. The beginner's class on Wednesday afternoon at 3:45 is the time for all boys to learn to swim. Many boys are making rapid progress and should be able to pass their initial swimming test of the length of the pool in one or two more lessons, it is reported.

George McElroy and Lou Schafer are expert swimming instructors and all boys who want to learn to swim are urged to contact the YMCA and make arrangements to join this special class.

Edward Bruck, who assists Schafer in the Y boys' department, was absent on Saturday morning as he was taken to the hospital suddenly for an operation. He is doing fine.

Basketball to Open
The YMCA Protestant Church Basketball League will start the first part of December. The first meeting for organization will take place at the Y on Monday, Nov. 23, at 7 p. m. Junior and Senior divisions of the league will be separate. All team managers or Sunday school representatives are asked to attend the meeting.

Membership Grows
YMCA membership this fall has grown tremendously with new members joining almost daily, Secretary Schafer says.

League at the Y, which takes in those from 16 to 20 years of age is attracting more attention than usual.

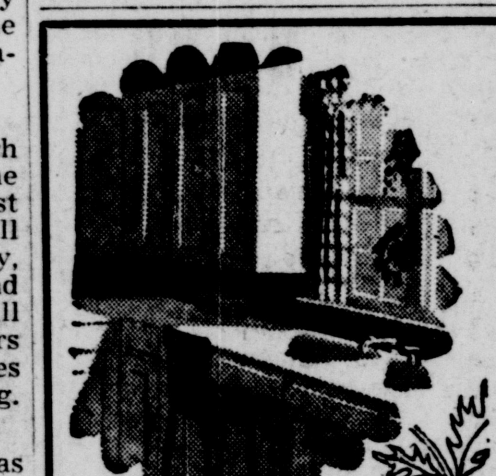

The business men's gymnasium nights on Monday and Thursday have a full attendance and more men are joining each week. The health department, which contains the steam bath, special exercise equipment and sun tan lights has large attendance three nights each week. The steam bath is open on Mondays and Saturdays from 5 to 10 and on Saturdays from 5 to 8 p. m. Other evenings it is in operation from 5 to 7.

People interested in any of these YMCA activities may contact Lou Schafer, general secretary, and he will give the necessary information. There is a time and place for all boys and men, both young and old, in the weekly YMCA schedule, he says.

The nurses gym and swim classes from Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals meets Tuesday and Friday mornings respectively. These groups are under the direction of George McElroy and they are given instructions in health and recreation and swimming.

CIO Approves Pact

Cleveland, Nov. 17 (AP)—The long discussed no-raiding agreement between the CIO and AFL cleared its final barrier today when the CIO convention unanimously approved the pact. The action automatically puts the agreement—acclaimed as the first step toward eventual AFL-CIO merger—into effect for two years, starting Jan. 1. The AFL ratified it at its September convention. The agreement will apply only to the AFL and CIO unions which decide to sign it. Heads of some unions in both groups have said they would not go along with the pact, but most are expected to do so.

Checks Are Mailed To Fair Exhibitors

Checks totaling $7,659.25 have been mailed to 397 persons for cash premiums paid by the Ulster County Agricultural Society to exhibitors at the Ulster County Fair last August. This announcement was made today by Pratt Boice, treasurer of the group. All exhibitors are residents of Ulster County.

Albert Kurdt, secretary of the Agricultural Society which conducts the fair each year, requests that all those who have received checks cash or deposit them promptly. The canceled checks must be sent to the State Department of Agriculture and Markets in Albany to receive the reimbursement made by the state to promote and encourage agricultural fairs.

Boice stated that the annual premium payments have been increasing somewhat each year with a larger number of exhibitors.

Drunk Driver Pay $25

James Walker Nichols, 37, of Germantown pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated when he was arraigned Monday night before Justice of the Peace Raymond Smith of the town of Shandaken, and was fined $25. He was arrested by state police Saturday night after New York Board of Water Supply police complained that their vehicle had been forced off the highway at Mount Tremper by another automobile.
